Georgia is the Empire State of the South, and contains a land area of 58,000 square miles, only one-eighth part of which is in a state of cultivation. The land west of the Chattahoochie is best adapted to corn, while the country east of the Chattahoochie is highly productive of cotton and rice. What is known as the Cherokee country is exceedingly rich, but peculiarly adapted to grain. No State in the North is better watered and timbered than Georgia, and no State at the present time presents better advantages to the emigrant. Lands are exceedingly cheap, the people are hospitable, and the climate is agreeable all the year round. There is also a great opening for manufactures, as nearly everything in this line has been ruined. Before the war there were forty-six cotton factories in the State only three of which are left standing. The Georgia Railroad system is the most complete in the South, and permeates every portion of the State. I refer the reader to the present condition of Georgia as given below.

THE FEELING AND CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE—TONE OF THE NEWSPAPERS.

Notwithstanding the unsatisfactory performance of the late Constitutional Convention, as a whole, and notwithstanding the awkward tergiversations of many of its members, the people of Georgia, as far as I have had an opportunity of making myself acquainted with them, are acting in good faith, and seem to be rid of that excessive soreness which characterized the Alabamians. Throughout the whole of Western and Central Georgia there is an improvement in the feeling and condition of the people of all grades, which is perfectly electrifying to the friends of the Union. I did not expect to see so much bona fide loyalty. The officers and soldiers of the late Confederate army, editors of newspapers, and prominent professional gentlemen and planters, are all assisting in the great work of restoration and reconstruction. The editors of newspapers, ex-officers, and the people generally, not only give praise and support to the President, but they join in strengthening a growing feeling for the Union and the flag of the Union. This is a fact, although I could hardly make myself believe it at first. With the exception of the Savannah journals, all of the newspapers in the State are edited by Southerners, many of whom seem to understand the true condition of things, and realize the fact that it behooves them to blaze the way for those who are less progressive, and less inclined to look at things in a spirit of encouragement. The Atlanta New Era, edited by an ex-Colonel of the Southern army; the Milledgeville Federal Union; the Columbus Enquirer and the Sun; the Macon Telegraph, and some other papers, are doing the right thing. I have conversed with the editors of the above-named newspapers, and they all agree that it is the height of folly to affect indorsement for the President and his policy, and at the same time to remain silent regarding the Government which he represents. I talked with Col. Prather, of the Atlanta New Era, Mr. Dumble, of the Macon Telegraph, and some other gentlemen of the press, and they all agree that there is but one thing to do—to devote themselves to the Government, and, as far as practicable, to do it openly and patriotically. I send you a short extract from an editorial which I clip from the Columbus Sun:

"Georgia is as calm as a lake on a summer's evening, when there is not a ripple on its bosom, or a quivering leaf in the forest. She, too, will soon move gracefully under the folds of the Stars and Stripes, and take steps to the music of the Union. When her soldiers laid down their arms, and accepted the amnesty tendered them, they came home with the determination to observe their pledge of honor. They have done so. Their honor is as bright in peace, as their valor was distinguished in war. Her people, too, though impoverished and almost heart-broken, have given the world a glorious example of what men will do who hold their honor priceless as their blood. Though torn and bleeding at every pore from the mortal engines of war, and the frightful wounds of lawless plunderers, Georgia yet lives, and she will one day write her name high up the scroll of undying fame."

I do not believe that there is a sensible man in Georgia who would be in favor of any measure which would be in direct opposition to the laws and authority of the United States—not a man. There are some people who are painfully reticent, and there are some real sore heads; but they do all their growling and grumbling at home. I met a gentleman a few days ago who remarked to me that he was not a Union man at heart, yet he wanted to see the country reunited, &c. This may seem to many a queer feeling, but there are hundreds of the same mind.

Some writers complain because these people do not go into ecstacies over the sight of an American flag, and because they do not trim up their little dogs' tails in red, white and blue. It is folly for us to expect them to exhibit any such feeling, and it would be hypocrisy on their part did they do so. And I respect them for their abstemiousness from all outward exhibitions of patriotism which are not the true offspring of inspiration. In conversation with Mr. Forray, of the Cincinnati Gazette, a few days ago, who, by the way, is one of the most radical gentlemen I ever met, he remarked that any person in the North who expected such an exhibition at once, should be set down as an ass—and an incorrigible one, too. I will add. When you whip a dog he immediately afterward commences licking the hand which administered the castigation, and annoys you with his incessant fawning; but as soon as there is an abatement of your severity, he snaps and bites again. A father administers punishment to an erring son. The latter thereafter obeys his father's mandates and becomes a loyal child—but he hates his parent, and continues to hate him, until the kindness of the father provokes the gratitude and elicits the pent-up affection of the son. The father clasps his son in his arms, and all is union and happiness again. The same is the case with the Southern people. They have been whipped, and whipped well. They know it and they admit it. But they have renewed their allegiance with their government, and their sacred honor is pledged to obey the laws. They are loyal to the United States Government; and, ere long, through the interposition of kindness on the part of our magnanimous President and the great conservative North, the demon hatred will be dethroned, union and harmony will be rife in our land, and we shall all be happy again.

It is almost unnecessary for me to remark what I have said several times in my letters, that the most loyal of all the Southern people are those who have been in the army, from general officers down to the private soldiers; and that those who are the most inclined to be morose and niggardly are those who are unacquainted with the privations and inconveniences of a soldier's life. I have yet to meet the soldier who is not heartily in favor of the government, and of bowing to its authority. I meet a few who say: "Next to a Southern Confederacy, I am for the old Union." And those who make this remark generally add: "Well, we fought well, and gave you a hard pull, but you were too many for us. We went in for a Southern Confederacy almost to a man. We fought hard for it, but you whipped us. The thing is up, and now we want a chance to fight for the United States." The South are a fighting people, truly. They have shown this during the late war; and, although they cannot admit that they have disgraced themselves, and many contend that it was not a bad cause they were fighting in, the people seem to be really anxious for a chance to fight for a better and a stronger cause. The Southern people, for this reason alone, have got wicked eyes on Johnny Bull, Johnny Crapeau, and our neighbor Maximilian, and are only anxious for the word to be given to take off their coats, roll up their sleeves, and pitch in.

Alabama and North Carolina have wheeled into line in good order, and Georgia will do the same, notwithstanding the unsatisfactory deliberations and conclusions of the crotchety convention which has just terminated its labors at this place.

STATE OF SOCIETY—COTTON, TRADE AND GENERAL BUSINESS.

The condition of the people is not what it should be. War and its devastating influences have almost entirely disintegrated law, order and society, religion, virtue and honor. Sherman cut a wide swathe from Chattanooga to Savannah. Desolation, devastation, crime, profligacy and misery stalk from one end of the State to the other. And, although Georgia has not got so many paupers just at present as Alabama, enough misery and want abound to tax its State officers to their utmost energy. Little or no cotton has been made this year, but enough is being brought into market, at least half of which was made in 1860–1, to provide means for the people for the coming winter. Money will be very scarce next year, and cotton will rule high, and plantations will sell cheap for cash.

I learned, both at Atlanta and Macon, that for every thousand dollars' worth of cotton which left those cities, five times that amount of goods came in. Northerners are lending their money very freely to public institutions; while corporations, railroad companies, commercial enterprises, and private parties, experience but very little trouble in obtaining all sorts of commodities, partly on time.

Go where you will, in city or country, you find the Jews have anticipated you. And it has been a good thing for the people, for they can actually get from them a better bargain than they can from the army sutlers. The latter want to make all their money at once, while the former are contented with small profits. The Southerners, by the way, have buried many of their prejudices, and they get along first rate with the Jews, who, all will admit, make quiet and law-abiding citizens. The way things look just now, the South is destined to be the "New-Jerusalem."

THE FREEDMEN.

The freedmen of Georgia on the whole, are in a much better condition than they are in Alabama, although thanks to the energy, sagacity and enlarged ideas of Gen. Wager Swayne, Commissioner of Freedmen, &c., for the latter named State, order is being brought out of chaos. At the close of the war, no State was similarly situated to Alabama with regard to this unfortunate class. The entire slave population of that State, with batches of negroes from Tennessee, Mississippi and Georgia, were huddled together in Central and Southern Alabama. Wilson's raid saw the end of slavery in that State however. But worse than slavery followed. The emancipation of nearly a half million of slaves was too sudden, and before the government could establish its Freedmen's Bureau, the majority of these blacks had become demoralized and degraded, while many of the aged and infirm, and many of the children, who, in their great joy had followed in the wake of the Union battalions, perished by hunger and from want of care. In Georgia this state of things did not exist. In more than two years we had been edging around and hacking into Georgia, and the consequence was, that about one-eight of the slaves had found their way into our lines, and at least another eighth had been driven into Alabama and Florida. Besides, in my way of thinking, the negroes of Georgia are a better class than those of Alabama. But—and great credit is due President Johnson and Gen. Howard—the selection of Gens. Swayne and Tillson, as Commissioners, respectively for Alabama and Georgia, was most judicious; and, taking into consideration their great charge, everything is working as well as could be expected.

A few weeks ago I gave you a pretty correct view of the freedmen of Alabama, and will now confine myself to Georgia. The task of successfully placing the emancipated slave precisely where he should be, and of giving him and securing to him all the rights of other non-voting inhabitants, is, in my opinion, more herculean than the reconstruction and restoration trial itself. There are about half a million of freedmen in this State, two-thirds of whom are at large, while the other third remain still with their former masters. The two-thirds at large get along in various ways. Some are industrious and do well, for there is plenty to do for all those who will work. Thousands of able-bodied negroes exist in a state of indolence, and only manage to keep body and soul together by begging and stealing. Then there are thousands of aged and infirm, and children, who are cared for by the Freedmen's Bureau, although, I will add, at least two-thirds of all the aged and infirm negroes and children in the State are cared for by their former masters.

With such a man as Gen. Tillson in charge of the Freedmen's Bureau of Georgia, results must follow which will prove satisfactory to both the people of the State and the United States Government. He is a man of enlarged and practicable ideas, is thoroughly loyal, and understands fully the matter he has in charge. He is as conservative as any loyal man in the North or South would wish him to be, and his whole soul is with the President, and his reconstruction policy and its friends. But he is determined to protect and better the condition of the freedmen, and to establish the institution known as the Freedmen's Bureau on a correct basis, and in addition to its other humane purposes, to make it the channel for the adjustment of all difficulties arising between the whites and the blacks.

RELATIONS OF THE WHITES AND BLACKS.

No unprejudiced person can close his eyes to the fact that, to some extent, much dissatisfaction exists between a large portion of the white people and a corresponding number of blacks. In a measure, both are to blame. I see these things wherever I go, and I know that they exist. Further, I feel it my duty to represent these things to the reader precisely as they are. To commence with, then, the negroes in a body, (and this applies to all of the Cotton States, as well as to Georgia,) believe that on or about Christmas or New-Year's, a distribution of all Southern lands is to be made, as well as all valuable property thereupon, and that they are all to be the recipients of well-equipped and well-stocked farms. In addition to this, they labor under the impression that the Freedmen's Bureau is to provide them all with the necessaries of life, and that thereafter they will have plenty to eat, drink and wear, with nothing to do. Some of the more timid of the white people anticipate insurrections and the like about that time, and encourage the negroes in their fallacious opinions by their indiscreet exercise of fears relative thereto. There will be no insurrection; but, until Christmas, the negro will continue to believe what I have stated above. This idea is confined almost wholly to the plantation negro. None of the negroes who have been brought up in cities—traders, mechanics, barbers, porters, hostlers, laborers, and others—entertain any of these false notions. They practically demonstrate that if they would have farms, or even food and clothes, they must work and earn money, and pay for them. I do not believe that there is an industrious colored person in any of the great cities of Georgia who has the slightest hope that any special favors are to be shown him on Christmas.

Secondly, in relation to the freedmen, many of them seem to think that with freedom there are no responsibilities; that they are to be relieved from all the cares and turmoils and obligations of life, and that an emancipation from labor and a life of pleasure and indolence is to be their lot henceforth on this terrestrial sphere. This unhappy error must be corrected. It is being corrected. Officers and gentlemen connected with the Freedmen's Bureau are experiencing no indifferent success, in bringing the more intelligent of these unfortunates to a full understanding of their real situation. They are being made to understand that they have duties and responsibilities, and that the more fully their emancipation from bondage and involuntary servitude is developed, the greater and graver are their responsibilities. There is great improvement to be seen everywhere in Georgia. Hundreds and thousands who were living a life of vice and indolence a few months ago, thanks to the Freedmen's Bureau, are now industrious and law-abiding persons, and are sustaining themselves and their families without further assistance from that institution. They have been made to understand that labor is a necessity, and that they are not to be permitted to become a burden upon, or a nuisance in, any community.

Again, in making contracts, the freedmen are not to be trusted as a class, even by those who are willing to treat them humanely, and compensate them for their services fairly. They work until they are discontented, and then quit. Such performances would engender the loss of an entire crop of cotton or of corn, and must not be tolerated. If a colored man makes a contract with any person, in which he agrees to work for a certain length of time, there must be laws which should compel him to do so faithfully, as long as the other party sticks to his part of the contract fairly.

Now as regards the white people; granting that a large majority of them accept the present condition of things gracefully and without murmuring; granting that they are willing to make contracts with the freedmen, and are willing to remunerate them justly; granting that they are disposed to treat this unfortunate race humanely; and granting that they are willing to abide faithfully by the laws which shall give these beings all the rights and privileges extended to other non-voting inhabitants; granting all this, I say, there are hundreds and thousands of white people in this State, either from ignorance or from obstinacy and vindictiveness, who are utterly unprepared for the present condition of things, and are determined to yield no acquiescence thereto.

This class, I am happy to say, are but the smaller portion of the people of Georgia. In the first place, they give vent to their spleen, and their hatred to the colored people, by their unqualified opposition to the institution known as the Freedmen's Bureau. They not only oppose it as an institution with all their might, but they attempt to clog its machinery by throwing obstacles in the way of its officers, and by inflicting all sorts of cruelties upon the negroes. From various parts of the State, much to the dismay of those who are exerting all their power and influence to dispel prejudices, allay animosities, and promote a fraternal feeling between the two races, daily discoveries are made of the designs of these bold, bad, incendiaries, many of whom have been summarily punished. As a general thing, very few of this class have been slaveholders—they are either ex-nigger-drivers, ex-nigger-traders, ex-nigger-whippers, or representatives of that portion of communities known as the "poor whites"—slaves with white faces.

But some of the leading, and some of the wealthiest ex-slaveholders are not entirely guiltless. Quite a number of this class have acted unfairly with the freedmen, and have exercised, in this connection, a good deal of bad temper. Some of them seem to have forgotten that the black man is free; and, I am sorry to say, some of them have been guilty of injustice and cruelty. In speaking of the unreliability of the freedmen in making good their contracts, I must do them the justice to say that they are not entirely alone to blame. Instances have been brought before the Commissioners of all the sub-districts in which the freedmen have been compelled to work for such starving wages that they could not earn enough to keep themselves out of debt, to say nothing of providing for their families. And there are not a few who threaten the freedmen with slavery, or worse, just so soon as the military and the Freedmen's Bureau shall be removed. So you see there are bad white men, as well as bad black men. Any person who attempts to throw the entire blame upon the white people is narrow-minded and fanatical, while he who opposes the Freedmen's Bureau, and curses the negroes as the authors of all these wrongs, is also narrow-minded and prejudiced.

I still adhere to what I said in this connection in a letter from Montgomery, Ala., that the Freedmen's Bureau, well officered and properly conducted, is at present absolutely necessary. It is a sort of watch-tower, and will be of equal benefit to both the whites and blacks. Take this away and both parties will suffer in consequence, and candor compels me to say especially the negroes.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

The election in Georgia takes place on the 15th, and there are scores of Richmonds in the field. For the Gubernatorial chair, Charles Jenkins, who has always been a sort of Conservative, will be the successful aspirant. He will probably have little or no opposition. Alexander H. Stephens or Ex-Gov. Joe Brown could beat him, but both of these gentlemen have declined the honor.

Both of these gentlemen can go to the United States Senate if they will. Joshua Hill and Herschel V. Johnson are also mentioned as candidates. Gov. Johnson wants to be Attorney-General. He is one of the truest Union men in the State, and has done his duty as Provisional Governor as well as he could under the circumstances.

Everybody wants to go to Congress. The candidates in the First District are Messrs. Cohen and Hopkins. The latter is a Union man; Cohen did all he could to bring about the war, and to carry it on—except fighting. He showed himself in the late convention to be a vile Secessionist.

The candidates in the Second District are Gen. Phil. Cook and Dr. J. E. Blount. Cook's claims are that he opposed secession in the convention of 1861, went into the war as Lieutenant with a sound body, and came out of it a Brigadier with a shattered leg. He was wounded twice at Malvern Hill. He was delegate in the late convention, and voted against repudiation. He talks Union, however. He will be elected. Here is Blount's card—he speaks for himself:

Lumpkin, Ga., Oct. 28, 1865.

To the Voters of the Second Congressional District:

In view of the present condition of our country, the result of the late revolution rendering our prominent friends ineligible to a seat in Congress for the present, I have been induced by friends from different parts of the district to become a candidate.

If I am your choice I will support the restoration policy of President Johnson, looking to a complete return of the Southern States to their former status in the Union. The only hope for peace, happiness and prosperity is in a free and cheerful support of the States upon constitutional limitations.

There is sorrow at the grave of a first-born, anguish in the house that weep a parent dead. I remember the touching lamentation of that ardent and impassioned nature, Edmund Burke, when he mourned an only son, the heir of his house and his name. You have all heard the wail of the King of Israel at the death of a rebel son, but no such sorrow is ever felt for the soldier slain in battle or for kindred gone down to the grave, as the exile feels looking for the time upon his native home, or the patriot when he sees the soil of his country crimsoned with fraternal blood. May our eyes never weep those tears again. Your country hangs weeping on your neck and beseeches you by the memories of the past and the hopes of the future, to stay reproach and crimination and send healing waters along all the channels of social and political life. Respectfully, J. E. BLOUT, M. D.

The candidates in the Third District are numerous. The most prominent are Judge B. H. Bigham, Hon. Porter Ingram, and Hon. Hugh Buchanan. Buchanan can take the test oath, if elected. Here is what Bigham says:

"The people of these counties know the sentiments I entertain in regard to the restoration of the civil authorities of the State to the exercise of their functions. I have no concealments to make on this important subject. Speaking about it, before I had any expectation of becoming a candidate for your suffrages in this election, I used the following language in a charge to the Grand Jury in Atlanta, which I copy from the Intelligencer of the 6th inst.: 'The constitution of the United States secures to every citizen the right to personal liberty, personal security, and private property; and being the organic law, it is binding alike upon the President, the Congress and all.'"

My views have not changed since they were thus expressed. The war is over. The occupation of the soldier is gone. Let the American Constitution resume its sway alike over all, in all parts of the country. The civil walks of life should not be blocked up with the fading relics of strife: nor should the irregular tribunals of the camp be permitted to domicil themselves in peaceful valleys.

I opposed the secession of Georgia from the Union; but I, nevertheless, regret to see that we have a candidate for Congress in this district who commends himself by saying he thinks he can take the test oath, to which he especially refers. Speaking for myself, I am not ready to write Traitor over the grave of the honored dead. I would not, if I could, thus insult the survivors of the recent severe conflict of arms.

I will say this much, however: I have recently been to Washington City, and have good reason to believe that, if so fortunate as to secure your favor and be elected, I will be enabled to take the seat. It is needless for me to say to those who know me, that in that event, I will faithfully do my best to discharge all the duties that devolve upon the occupant.

In the Fourth District there are two candidates—Hon. E. G. Cabaniss and Dr. A. J. Simmons. It is said of the latter that he "is a gentleman of fine address and ability, and one of the few gentlemen of standing in the district, who can, if elected, take the test oath required of all Southern members. Except on the score of humanity, as manifested in the repeated trips made by him to sanguinary battle-fields of the war, in a professional capacity, Dr. Simmons never voluntarily gave 'aid and comfort' to the enemies of the Union."

In the Fifth Congressional District, Cols. Matthews and Milledge are the candidates. Neither of them can take the test oath. There are yet no candidates announced in the Sixth District.

In the Seventh District, there are three aspirants—Gen. Wofford, James P. Hambleton, and James A. Stewart.

Thg friends of Judge O. A. Lochrane wanted him to run for Congress. He is one of the best Union men in the State, but says he cannot fully come up to the test oath. He publishes the following lengthy card, but it is of so much importance I send it to you. He takes the right view of the case:

Editors Telegraph:

I see by your paper that my name has been suggested for Congress in this district. While thankful for the feelings that prompted the suggestion, and complimentary manner in which it was conveyed, I must decline being a candidate. I resigned the bench to devote myself to my private interests, which the fortunes of war had impaired, and as a duty to my family must give up the honors of office, and attend to my profession.

Beside, I could not consistently take the test oath to be admitted into Congress. I aided the South in her struggle, and my whole sympathies were with her to its close. And, in my judgment, it is our plain duty to select men whose record will not be a barrier to their admission, and whose presence will not invoke the irritation of the past four years.

I am afraid that in our sudden elevation from the troubles by which we have been surrounded, we have lost sight of the obstacles that lie in our path, and take too hopeful a prospect of our political condition; and our rejection at the hands of Congress, it is believed, would only result in remitting us back to our present status. The President has not, and may not, by proclamation recognize us as States, on our election of Governors and Congressmen. Indeed, indications point rather to the solution of an experiment in this matter, rather than the acknowledgment of a constitutional right; and our rejection will carry an implied power in Congress, over our people, to be felt in the passage of laws to govern us in the erection of tribunals to administer the laws, and officers of their selections.

The President has done everything man could do, to aid our restoration to law and civil government; he has battled against sentiment and prejudice, to lift us on our feet, and clothe us with State organization, for the preservation of society; and over fields still wet with blood, he has protected a new organization of industry, and removed all that could possibly be taken away from our midst, that could revive unpleasant memories.

He has fought for us the battle of State equality without one Southern hand to help. Is it the policy of wisdom to send delegates to Congress who are neither in sympathy or conservatism with him, and whose record is an argument against his policy, and assertion of our loyalty! We may be loyal to law by the efforts of obedience—loyal to the government by acquiescence to its power. But the illustration of loyalty we must give to attest sincerity, must be seen in the men we select to utter our sentiments. To be national is an essential of loyalty, and yet nationality is not the best passport to office. The sentiment we express, in the selection of men who, up to a few months ago, denounced any one favoring reconstruction, with the most vituperative epithets, is too well known at the North, to be misunderstood, and they are not the men I would prefer to go before next Congress, with the hope of being admitted. In other words, they are not the proper men to urge harmony and reconstruction. Their record will not invite sympathy or conciliation, and while with these men my kindest feelings are invoked, I deplore the policy, and hope it will not bring trouble on the commonwealth.

SKETCH OF MILLEDGEVILLE.

Milledgeville, the capital of Georgia, is situated on the west side of the Oconee River, and is 32 miles east of Macon. It is an old-fashioned city, and perpetuates the name of John Milledge, an old resident of Baldwin County. The Legislature first held its session here in 1807. The State-house stands upon an eminence a short distance from the river, and looks, for all the world, like an old convent.

The State Penitentiary was located here, and was a first-class institution. During the march of Gen. Sherman to Savannah, and before he arrived at Milledgeville, the inmates of the prison were formed into companies and attached to what was known as the "Galvanized Yankee Regiment," (made up of our prisoners at Andersonville, who were released upon condition of taking the Confederate oath and entering the Confederate service,) Col. O'Neil. Gen. Sherman, upon learning this, consigned the building to the flames, and it is now a shapeless mass of ruins. Our troops also destroyed a cotton factory here, with 53 looms and 3,136 spindles.

The State Lunatic Asylum is also located here, and contains 63 rooms. At Midway, about half a mile west of Milledgeville, is the Oglethorpe University. This institution is under the government of the Presbyterian Church, represented by the Synod of Georgia and South Carolina. The only other institution here is a large hotel, with shabby beds and nothing to eat—board $4 50 a day. BENJAMIN C. TRUMAN.

DECISION BY THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

Government Tax Cannot be Deducted from Interest Due to Stockholders.

Baltimore, Wednesday, Nov. 22.

In the United States Circuit Court for Maryland, this morning, Chief-Justice Chase presiding, an important decision was given in the case of James Jackson, a subject of Great Britain, vs. The Northern Central Railroad Company.

The action was to recover the amount of $2,650 on coupons held by him of the bonds of the company.

The company claimed the right to retain five per cent. of its interest coupons to pay the income tax with, and also three mills on every dollar of its bonds ove the law of Maryland.

The court decided that the company must pay the tax, and that the coupons must be paid without deducting the tax.

Closing of the State Canals.

Syracuse, Wednesday, Nov. 22.

The Board of Canal Commissioners to-day resolved to close the canals of the State on Tuesday, the 12th day of December.

The Storm at Sea.

Philadelphia, Wednesday, Nov. 22.

The United States supply steamer Memphis arrived here this afternoon, having left New-York on the 20th inst. She reports: Experienced very heavy northeast gales and thick fogs; was obliged to remain hove-to off Five-fathom Bank lightship fourteen hours. While hove-to fell in with large quantities of drift matter, including several bales of cotton, supposed to be from some vessels which had lost their deck loads. The sea was running very high, and it was impossible to pick up the cotton.

THE SANITARY COMMISSION.

The Receipts and Expenditures During the Past Four Years.

Formation of a Historical Bureau—Preparation for Final Report—The Claim Agency.

The public, which for four years has intrusted in a large measure the distribution of its charitable disbursements to the energetic and cautious hand of the Sanitary Commission, naturally feels an interest in the status and prospects, the plans and projects of its faithful servant. A brief statement drawn from the officers in charge of the New-York branch will indicate clearly and satisfactorily all that the people would care to know.

The Departments or Special Bureaus of the Commission have been located at the following points: Washington, New-York, Louisville, New-Orleans, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Annapolis, City Point; in addition to which there have been the Departments of Western Virginia, of the South and Texas. A full report of the business of the commission down to the 1st of April, 1865, has been spread before the public, since when until the 1st of October, 1865, the following statistics are furnished:

Month.	No. of Employes.	Salaries.	Disbursements.
April	437	$26,997 76	$124,206 95
May	447	28,221 26	138,759 07
June	424	26,813 57	233,577 80
July	363	24,247 38	67,197 84

September	280	20,000 44	46,152 66
Totals	2,265	$148,297 10	$670,433 18

From a document just issued by the commission, we gather the following report of the Treasurer, which shows the

A new national question now arises. What has been done or is to be done with this surplus? It will be remembered that some time in 1863 a Protective War Claim Association, whose name indicates its purpose, was established with a long list of distinguished names on its circular, but really operated by Mr. Henry Greenfield. It being almost impossible for the association to do anything on its own account, it wisely became subordinate to the Sanitary Commission, of whose prestige and influence it availed itself largely. Of the operations of this branch of the Sanitary Commission, we present the following which brings the account down to the 1st of the present month. It is called a "report of claims entered and settlements on claims filed, from March 16, 1863, to Oct. 31, 1865:"

Claims Filed.

For pensions	5,009
For arrears of pay and bounty	6,299
For prize money	3,482
For miscellaneous	250
Total	15,040
Estimated value	$2,388,502 40

Claims Paid.

Amount Collected.

For pension	$115,925 74
For arrears of pay and bounty	301,752 77
For prize money	208,426 72
For miscellaneous	2,000 00
Total	$628,105 23
Estimated value of claims remaining unsettled	$1,760,397 17

In addition to making direct application for pensions, arrears of pay, bounty and prize money, general information and advice has been given relative to military and naval matters. No charges have been made for these services, thus saving to the widows and representatives of the soldiers the usual fees of claim agents, amounting to at least $238,850 24. Probably no more villainous set of men exist among us than the lower and sharper class of "Claim Agents," whose retaining fee is ten per cent., and whose charges are abominably extortionate. From these sharpers the commission has already extricated the all of many a widow and orphan. It will cease to receive claims on the 1st of January, 1866, and thenceforth devote itself to the

of its great work. One of the principal and obvious duties with which the commission is charged, is the compilation, and preparation for future reference, of the vast statistical and scientific material at its command. At a recent meeting of the Board of the Commission, it was resolved to create a

of which the following rules will give a complete idea:

I.—In order to preserve the records of the Sanitary Commission for future reference, and to secure the materials for the preparation of such a history of the commission's life and work as is due to the people who have sustained it, and to coming generations who have a right to the benefit of its experience, there shall be created a Historical Bureau of the United States Sanitary Commission.

II.—The immediate object of this bureau, shall be the collection, preservation, and orderly arrangement of all the archives of the commission, and of whatever can in any way illustrate its history.

III.—The General Secretary shall be the head of the bureau. He shall be charged with the duty of collecting, so far as is possible, from the several offices and branches of the commission, and from every other available source, all matter, including private letters and personal acquaintance with facts of interest or importance, relating to the work and history of the commission.

IV.—It shall be his duty to secure such a classification and arrangement of the archives, in accordance with a system approved by the historian, as shall make them immediately available for historical uses.

V.—He will prescribe regulations under which the archives may be consulted; and will be responsible for their careful use and preservation.

VI.—He shall appoint such clerical assistants as may be required in executing the historical work; shall fix their salaries, and approve and adjust the accounts of the bureau.

VII.—He shall, from time to time, and as often as required by the Standing Committee, report to them concerning the work of the bureau.

For the information of the public, Mr. Blatchford has prepared the following explanatory

CIRCULAR LETTER:

To the Branches and Aid Societies of the United States Sanitary Commission:

The Sanitary Commission has in view the preparation of a complete history of its work. This history is intended to embrace the origin, progress, methods and results of the great enterprise in which we have been engaged. Its object is not merely to do justice to that spirit of patriotism and self-denying zeal which has characterized those who have coöperated in the work, but also to present a clear account of the methods by which its success has been achieved, so as to afford aid to future generations, should an emergency arise similar to that which gave birth to this commission.

For the accomplishment of this object an Historical Bureau has been organized. A competent gentleman has been appointed to prepare a general history of the operations of the commission, while others will write full accounts of special departments. It is proposed to collect and arrange, in an orderly manner, all the material suitable for this purpose.

The archives of the central office at Washington have already been transferred to this bureau, and it is now decided to secure a similar disposition of the documents of the several branches and aid societies.

While the primary object of this collection is to obtain authentic material for the preparation of this history, another and scarcely less important end is the permanent preservation of these valuable documents themselves.

The cordial coöperation of our branches and aid societies is essential to the successful accomplishment of the wark of this bureau; for without the papers which they can furnish, the proposed history will necessarily be incomplete.

This gathering together of all the archives of the commission into one complete collection, in which the contribution of each society will be preserved in its integrity and be distinctly designated, will constitute the permanent memorial of the commission and will forever remain an object of national interest, while the material of which it is composed will possess a value and interest far greater than can possibly belong to it while existing in detached and isolated parts.

Relying upon your cordial coöperation in furtherance of the objects thus briefly indicated, and inviting your aid in the preparation of a national record and memorial, we hope to receive at the earliest day practicable the archives of each of our branches and aid societies.

All documents should be carefully incased, each package being accompanied by a list of contents, and addressed to the General Secretary, No. 21 West Twelfth-street, New-York; where, for present use and convenience, in connection with the historical work, they will be deposited. The expense of transportation will be paid by the commission.

JNO. S. BLATCHFORD, General Secretary.

The immensity of this work one can little understand who has not been familiar with the enormous extent and ramifications of the commission's work. Boxes, cases, rooms full of documents are already arrived, and occupy the constant time and careful attention of thirteen clerks who examine, indorse, prepare and file them away. As the work grew upon their hands, it became evident that more room was needed, and the Commission availing itself of the kind and interested coöperation of Homer Morgan and E. H. Ludlow attempted to hire a house suitable for their purposes. It is an interesting fact in this connection, that during a three weeks' consecutive search, they are unable to find an unfurnished, vacant house in the district bounded by Eighth and Thirtieth streets and the Second and Seventh avenues. The house No. 21 West Twelfth-street was for sale, and by vote of the board and with the advice of competent business men $21,000 was invested in the property, which will readily bring that sum at any time within the next five years. At this place the general officers of the commission have their headquarters, and there they are preparing these statistical and scientific data, whose usefulness and importance in years to come cannot be over-estimated.

The house is an ordinary three-story brick, neatly fitted up, in a pleasant and accessible locality, and apparently just the place for the work. The preparation of the of the commission, embracing all manner of interesting, and instructive, and gratifying data, is intrusted to the competent hand and head of Prof. Gould, of Cambridge. It is a work requiring patience, time, skill and varied culture.

The Relief Bureau of the Commission closed on the 1st of July. At that time there were vast stores and material on hand, all of which has been turned over to Gen. Howard's bureau, and receipted for by the officer in charge.

The Claim Bureau will close on the 1st January, and turn over to the Central Bureau at Washington all the papers and documents in its possession.

From that time on the commission will devote itself to three objects indicated:

1. The preparation of a historical record.
2. The preparation of a final and full report.
3. The settlement of its general affairs; closing up the accounts of its numerous agencies.

What will be done with the

SURPLUS FUNDS

they have not yet determined. They will undoubtedly be transferred as an endowment to some institution devoted to the interests of soldiers and soldiers' families. The following is a list of the CONVENTION OF THE TOBACCO TRADE.

Mass Meeting of the Tobacconists' National Association—An Important Tax Movement.

A mass meeting of the Tobacco trade of the United States was held yesterday at the Cooper Institute for the purpose of organizing a movement looking toward removing the tax on manufactured tobacco and placing it entirely on the leaf, as it leaves the hands of the grower. The large manufacturers and regular dealers have suffered immensely by the operations of irresponsible parties who manufacture cigars by stealth, and so avoid the heavy tax imposed upon such goods. In fact they assert that the present condition of the cigar and tobacco trade is such as to demand the united and immediate efforts of all to save it from utter ruin. Though heretofore unsuccessful in getting the tax transferred to the leaf, it is believed there is yet an opportunity for bringing about the change desired, and for this purpose the meeting was held, with the intention of presenting their views to the United States Revenue Commission, now in session, protesting against the present ruinous system of taxation, and renewing their application to Congress for a transfer of the tax from the manufactures to the leaf.

The convention was held under the auspices of the Tobacconists' National Association, and delegates from various cities were present.

The meeting was organized by Mr. WM. E. LAWRENCE, President of the Association, taking the chair. Mr. LAWRENCE gave a succinct account of the progress made by a delegation sent by the Tobacconists' Association to Washington last year. He said that they had met with favor, but that a bill introduced by Mr. STEVENS, taxing exports, had proved fatal to the enterprise. However, he was of the opinion that the next Congress could be influenced, by proper representations, to transfer the tax now existing wholly to the leaf.

Hon. JAMES GALLAGHER, of Connecticut, was introduced. He spoke of the action of Congress in imposing the tax having strangled the tobacco trade; that they had taken the trade from legitimate hands and placed it in those of contraband manufacturers. The delegation to Washington had met with success, but the bill of Mr. STEVENS, which was introduced in their behalf, had attempted too much, for it taxed exports, which was unconstitutional. The growers had at last acknowledged that the manufacturers were as honest as they were. Congress needed money, and they did not care who paid it. The only thing they wanted was to know how to tax without killing the goose that laid the golden egg. The substance of the objection made by the growers was that they did not like to be taxed, and that they would cheat the government. But it was very easy to prevent them from defrauding the revenue. They were compelled to grow it in open air, and every one could see it. The collection of the tax as at present imposed was a difficult task, as factories existed from Maine to California. The speculators opposed the movement for they would be compelled to raise more funds to enable them to control the market; but impose the tax on the leaf and manufacturers and growers would experience materil benefit, while neither would lose by the change. Organization was power. The speaker cited the case of TRELAWNEY, the great suffrage agitator of England, who was condemned to die, but subsequently was pardoned by the power of the people. In conclusion, Mr. GALLAGHER earnestly urged the convention to keep agitating the question of taxing tobacco, and that victory would eventually ensue.

Mr. EDWARD BURKE, Corresponding Secretary, next addressed the convention. From this address we learn that the Revenue Act, which came into operation on the 1st of September, 1862, found the tobacco trade of the United States in a condition of unusual prosperity. The crop of 1860, the largest ever raised on this continent, or, in the same period, on any quarter of the globe, having been upward of four hundred and twenty-nine millions of pounds, had furnished abundant material for the development of the manufacturing resources of the country, and the machinery of the mill and the busy hum of the workshop resounded on every side. East, West, North and South felt the inspiration of well-rewarded industry, and every branch and every member of the trade was fully, satisfactorily and profitably employed. At that time the tobacco interest bid fair to become one of the mightiest in the land. But little more than three years have elapsed since the passage of the Revenue Act, and now the trade is a comparative wreck. Planting has been partially suspended, only one hundred and ninety-seven millions of pounds having been raised in 1864, while this year the decrease is from one to two and one-seventh below 1864. The vast internal transportation which freighted our railroads, our lake, river and ocean fleet, has been materially lessened; the manufactures are being deserted, the manufacturers are discouraged and decrepitude and stagnation are seen, where onhe was enterprise and thrift. It is now eleven monts, since the organization first met; since that time, all that could be done for the relief of the trade, without adopting the measure recommended by the trade. Could the government obtain a tax upon all the tobacco produced, it might reduce the tax fully one-half. The illegitimate manufacture of tobacco, and its use in the natural state, comprises nearly one-half the crop. Tobacco and cigars are often sold in large quantities for little more than the amount of the government tax on the articles thus sold.

The sum and substance of the favor asked of Congress is to warehouse the leaf before it reaches the manufacturer. The Secretary discussed the warehouse systems of European nations, and said that in those countries fraud was unknown. The revenue from the tax on tobacco during the year ending June 30, 1865, was as follows:

Cheroots	$47,990 27
Cigarettes, all kinds	14,944 95
Cigars, including $330,654 47, accruing from the act which took effect Sept. 1, 1862	3,021,457 94

Smoking, all other kinds	1,563,250 37
Total from tobacco	$8,016,110 78
Total from all sources	$41,383,864 86

The whole number of cigars returned during the year was 516,087,021, and in the following order:

On the $8 tax	138,592,375
On the $15 tax	25,800,200
On the $25 tax	2,937,800

In the year preceding, the cigars returned were, 492,780,700: chewing tobacco, 39,180,634 pounds; smoking, 24,191,792 pounds; snuff, 1,204,671 pounds. It will be observed that there were 22,306,321 more cigars returned during the last year than in the previous one; but it will also be observed that the decrease in the return of chewing tobacco of all kinds was 22,493,775 pounds; smoking tobacco of all kinds, 14,934,608 pounds; snuff, 496,292 pounds.

The following committees were appointed by the chair:

Committee on Resolutions—T. S. Greenley, Pennsylvania; George Bolden, Pennsylvania; Thos. Huse, Pennsylvania; David H. McAlpin, New-York; Mr. Foote, New-York; Evart Mones, New-York; E. M. Crawford, New-York; David Campbell, New-York; T. M. Brown, Connecticut; W. S. Hanboon, Rhode Island; Guido Hall, Missouri.

McAlpin, New-York; Mr. Foote, New-York; Christian Ax, Maryland; David Campbell, New-Jersey; John J. Bagley, Michigan; James Gallagher, Connecticut; David Catlin, Missouri; C. B. Heartt, Illinois; W. S. Huntoon, Rhode Island.

The convention then took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On reassembling, the convention was addressed by Mr. DAVID CAMPBELL, who gave some account of his observations throughout Kentucky, and showed the utter necessity of a change, stating that there are great quantities of manufactured tobacco daily sold which do not pay one cent of taxes. The regular manufacturers could not afford to swear to a falsehood every month, or they would be compelled to leave the trade.

The Committee on Resolutions submitted the same for adoption, as follows:

Whereas, The present law relating to the manufacture of tobacco, and assessing a tax upon it, has during the past three years of its operations, fully and conclusively demonstrated to the members of this Association, and all others engaged in or connected with the manufacture of tobacco, its utter injustice and inadaptibility to the nature and requirements of the trade, as well as to the wants of the government, in the impossibility of its stringent and impartial enforcement, thereby, in reality offering a reward for the evasion of the payment of the tax, and the defrauding of the Treasury of its just dues; and,

Whereas, Under the present law, those manufacturers who have always willingly paid their taxes, and gladly strengthened the hands of the government financially, find their business fast passing from them, under the control of irresponsible and dishonest men, whom the present law cannot reach, as the statistics of the Department of Internal Revenue conclusively show; and,

Whereas, Owing to the depressing influence of the present law, every branch of the trade is entirely prostrated, and many workmen thereby thrown out of employment, and divested of the means of honest support; and,

Whereas, It is the unanimous conviction of the members of this association, founded upon the experience of the past three years, with the workings of the Internal Revenue Law as it relates to the manufacture of tobacco, cigars and snuff, in this country, and strengthened by the working of similar laws in other countries, that the removal of the tax from the manufactured article to the raw material, or leaf, will impart a healthy tone to the trade, in protecting the manufacturer and the workman from the covert and sinister operations of irresponsible and dishonest parties, and will increase the revenue to the National Treasury by several millions of dollars annually; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of this association do respectfully but urgently request Congress to remove the tax from manufactured tobacco to the raw material or leaf, as an act of justice to the hones manufacturer, and which will work in injury to the growers, and at the same time, as an act of precaution to protect the public.

Resolved, That as the tariff on imported cigars, valued at fifteen dollars per thousand or less, is at present from twenty to thirty per cent less than the duties levied by the government on the same quality of cigars of domestic manufacture, therefore we deem it the imperative duty of Congress to raise ther tariff on imported cigars to an amount at least equal to that paid by home manufacturers.

Resolved, That the objects of this association being yet unaltered, it is the clear and imperative duty of its members to continue its organization and labor with unity and zeal to render it successful.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be submitted to Congress at its ensuing session, and to the United States Revenue Commission appointed by Congress.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted by the convention.

Mr. DAVID H. MCALPIN and several other delegates addressed the convention on the importance of the proposed movement, and urged the most persistent effort on the part of the honest portion of the tobacco trade. After which, the convention adjourned.

ROBBERY ON BOARD A STEAMER.

On the morning of the 28th of August last a robbery was discovered to have taken place in the night time on board the steamer Edinburgh, of the Inman line, then lying at Pier No. 45 North River. A hatchway had been broken open and five pieces of silk, valued at $800 in gold, extracted from a case of goods in the hold. Unable at the time to obtain a clue to the offenders, the case was put into the hands of Detective Officers EUSTACE and FARLEY, who entered the court yesterday morning, having in custody the persons of THOMAS WHITSEY and WILLIAM COOPER, the former having confessed to a share in the theft, and the latter to his knowledge of it. THOMAS F. RASKELL, Captain of the steamer, testified to the abstraction of the property, and to the confession made him by WHITSEY, that he had taken one piece of the silk. WILLIAM COOPER'S evidence went to show that on the day above-named WHITSEY came to him in the Quartermaster's office with a piece of silk, which he asked him to wrap around his (WHITSEY'S) waist, which he did. He noticed that the silk had a ticket upon it, on which was marked "75 yards," and he thought there were about so many yards in it. WHITSEY, on his voluntary statement, said that he did not take the silk himself from the case, but that the boatswain gave him drink not to tell that he and two others had stolen the five pieces. The piece he took from the boatswain he afterward flung into the river.

The prisoner WHITSEY was committed in default of $2,000 bail to answer to the charge, and WM. COOPER in $500 to testify.

As serious loss of this nature has occurred from time to time on board the steamers of this and other lines, much credit is due to the manner in which the slight clues to the above theft were followed up by Officers EUSTACE and FARLEY.

The Fire Department.

The Board of Fire Commissioners held their adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon. Present a full board, Mr. PINCKNEY in the chair.]

A communication was received from certain citizens of the Ninth Ward, asking for a new telegraph alarm station in the neighborhood of West and Bank streets. Also for a hose carriage for the protection of Hook's Mills and vicinity. Ordered on file.

A number of resignations were received and accepted, and a like number of appointments made. Several charges were made against members of certain companies, which were referred to the Committee on Discipline.

The Committee on Finance and Telegraph reported upon several bills, amounting in the aggregate to $5,131 06. The report was adopted, and the bills ordered to be paid.

Commissioner BROWN moved that a reward of $500 be offered by the department for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who set on fire the building on Fifty-eighth-street, near Broadway, formerly occupied by Black Joke Engine Company No. 33. The same was adopted.

The board then adjourned.

Fires.

FIRE IN MANGIN-STREET.

Yesterday morning, at 2 o'clock, a fire was discovered in the hobby-horse manufactory of Messrs. ANDREW CHRISTIAN & SON, No. 89 Mangin-street. The fire was first discovered by Officer MYERS, of the Eleventh Precinct, who, seeing the flames issue from the premises, gave the alarm. Before the fire was got under, damage to the extent of $2,500 was sustained, which we understand to be covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

ENGINE-HOUSE DESTROYED.

The engine-house occupied for many years by the "Black Joke" Engine Company No. 33, and situated in Fifty-eighth-street, near Broadway, was totally destroyed by fire, between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning. This house has been closed since the organization of the new department, and a padlock placed upon the gate by order of the Commissioners. The building, it seems, was entered by some person who set fire to the upper floors. The building being of three stories, before the flames could be subdued the entire interior was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $2,000; no insurance. Officer DU BOIS, during the progress of the fire, arrested a young man named MATTHEW DONAHOE, in whose possession were found several articles of furniture identified as those belonging to the house, and which he had stolen. A clue has been obtained by the Fire-Marshal which it is hoped will lead to the arrest of the incendiaries, and the investigation is now being made by Mr. BAKER, assisted by Capt. STALL.

Sale of Scranton Coal.

A HEAVY DECLINE IN PRICES.

By order of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, Mr. JOHN H. DRAPER disposed of 25,000 tons of Scranton coal at auction yesterday. The coal is deliverable at Elizabethport, N. J., the freight thence being 75 cents per ton.

The Tax Commissioner Imbroglio in a New Shape.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Clerke.

The People ex rel. Henry Morgan vs. Matthew T. Brennan, Comptroller, &c.—This was one of several applications by deputy tax commissioners and clerks in that office who had been appointed by Williamson and the other Tax Commissioners, who have recently been declared rightful occupants of the office, but were ousted by the appointees of the intruding Commissioners Purser and Woodruff, for a mandamus to the Comptroller to compel him to pay them salaries since the time of their appointment.

For the Comptroller it was urged that the relators were not entitled to the salary, the obligation of the city arising not from the appointment to office, but from the performance of service. That the services had been done and the money paid by the city to others while they stood by and allowed the payments to be made, and that their remedy, if any, was against the intruders by action for money had to their use, and not against the city. Further, that the appropriation for paying these salaries had been actually expended and was no longer in the treasury, and that a mandamus to pay a sum for which no appropriation had been made, cannot be granted, such payments being strictly forbidden by statute.

Counsel for the relators argued that, having been legally appointed and never legally removed, they were entitled to their whole salary. That even supposing the other parties to have been officers de facto, and their actions valid as far as concerned the general public, Mr. Brennan was estopped from setting up such a claim, he being the original wrongdoer and chargeable with knowledge of the facts and the want of right of the parties whom he had paid to their salaries.

The court adjourned the further argument till today, at 11 A. M.

Mr. J. T. Williams and Mr. F. Smyth for relators; Mr. C. Trall, Assistant Corporation Counsel, for respondent.

Accommodation Note Partnership.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—NOV. 21, 1865.

Before Justice Smith and a Jury.

Frederick W. Reimler vs. James C. Jewett, et al.—This was an action on a promissory note made by the firm of James C. Jewett & Co., to the order of and and indorsed by that firm, to the plaintiff. Two of the defendants—Jewett and Crockett—set up defence, denying that the other defendant, Scheamoul, was a partner; also alleging that the note was made for the accommodation of plaintiff, and for a joint transaction, not yet terminated, in shipping preserves to Matamoras, Mexico. The other defendant, Scheamoul, answered separately, denying all the allegations in plaintiff's complaint.

On the trial, the plaintiff's evidence was, that he sold to the firm, in the Spring of 1865, a quantity of canned preserves, the sale being conducted by the plaintiff with defendant Scheamoul and a broker, who acted for the firm; that defendant Scheamoul, at the time of the sale, represented to the plaintiff, and afterward to others, that he was a partner. Other evidence was adduced by plaintiff to show the partnership, and that the transaction was a sale. The defendants' evidence was in contradiction of the above. Verdict for plaintiff against all the defendants for $1,845 75.

For plaintiff, Miller, Peet & Nichols; for defendants Jewett & Crockett, Dan Marvin; for defendant Scheamoul, J. K. Hill.

Freight Contract—Deviations from Voyage.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT.

Before Justice Peckham.

Brett et als. vs. Milledge et als.—The plaintiffs, shipping merchants in this city, sue for freight on a charter party to bring coal from Cape Breton Island at $6 per ton, per brig Orion, to this city, and also for extra pilotage. The defendants admit the plaintiffs' claim, but counterclaimed $1,000 for damages, by reason of unreasonable delay in leaving New-York and deviations on the passage, lengthening the voyage and delaying the delivery of the coal. The defendants claim that through this they lost various contracts, the cargo being intended as a sample. It was shown that the vessel left New-York as soon as the weather was fit for putting to sea, and that the deviations were under stress of weather; and, further, that the coal sold at the full contract and highest market price.

The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiffs for the whole amount of their claim, $1,571 27.

Torrance, Spaulding & Richardson for plaintiffs; Owen, Gray & Owen for defendants.

Questions of Practice.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Before Justices Ingraham, Leonard and Barnard.

Palmer vs. Terry.—This was an appeal from an order denying a motion to vacate an order of publication. The original order was granted on the ground that the defendant had property within this State. On the motion to vacate, contradictory affidavits were presented as to this fact, and the court below refused to vacate the order. On the appeal the General Term refused to hear the motion, holding that it could not review in this way the decision of the court below.

Mr. D. Lord, for defendants' appellants; Mr. C. Van Vorst, for respondents.

REGULATIONS.

Notices of all issues of fact already joined and triable in the City of New-York are to be served on the Clerk, and to be put on the calendar for the ensuing January circuit.

During the first week of that circuit, motions to correct the calendar may be made.

After that week the calendar will remain unchanged, and continue the calendar for every successive circuit during the year, until all the causes on it shall be tried, each circuit beginning on the calendar where the immediately preceding circuit left off, and new causes to be placed in order at the foot of the permanent calendar.

After the first week of each circuit, (during which motions to correct the calendar may be made,) the calendar of the causes which may have gone down at the previous circuit and the new issues will be entered as part and in continuation of the permanent calendar, and so on, from court to court, until the end of the year.

These regulations do not affect the question of noticing the causes for trial, as the statute may require.

Hereafter no causes will be reserved, generally, after they are placed on the day calendar.

No cause on any day calendar will be passed, except where the counsel is actually engaged in a trial of a cause in another court in the city, or in the Court of Appeals, and then only until such an engagement is discharged, or upon proof of the absence of a witness duly subpened.

Parties, by consent, may apply to the Clerk, and have any cause on the Circuit calendar reserved generally, and set down for a particular day, before it is placed on the day calendar; and may, on filing with the Clerk a like consent, have the same placed on the day calendar, or apply to the court, on a notice of two days, therefor.

SPECIAL CIRCUIT CALENDAR.

At any Circuit, until further orders, any causes belonging to either of the following classes may be placed on a Special Circuit calendar, unless the trial is likely to occupy more than one hour:

1. Where the action is on contract, and the answer merely denies the allegation in the complaint, without setting up any new matter.

2. Where the action is on contract, and new matter is set up in the answer, and there shall be reason to believe that the defence is made only for the purpose of delay, or where it shall appear, in such an action, by affidavit, that the cause can be tried in an hour.

To entitle the cause to be placed on such calendar, the plaintiff's attorney must give a notice of four days to be heard before a Judge at Chambers, that he will move to have the cause placed on such calendar; and if the motion be granted, the cause may be heard on any subsequent Friday.

If the motion be founded on the belief that the defence is for delay, or that the cause can be tried in an hour, affidavits must be served at the time of notice.

The plaintiff's attorney must deliver to the Clerk of the Circuit a like notice one day before such Friday, containing also the number of the cause on the General Circuit Calendar.

If the cause shall actually occupy more than one hour on the trial, the trial may be suspended at the discretion of the court, and the cause be put down at the foot of the calendar.

NOVEMBER, 1865.

The Napoleon Oil Case—The Jury Give a Verdict for the Plaintiff's Whole Claim.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Justice Garvin.

Charles H. Carr and others vs. Henry R. Kendall and others.—This action was brought to recover deposits made with the defendants as margin on the loan of 500 shares of oil stock in the Napoleon Oil Company. The plaintiffs claimed that the Napoleon Oil stock, with $1,500,000 in 300,000 shares, was founded on a portion of the property of the Live Yankee Company, whose capital stock of $250,000 was quoted at 5 cents a share, and was originally worthless. That a corner was arranged by the defendants procuring persons to direct brokers to sell while they and their confederates kept control of the whole stock. That the stock was sold by the brokers, among whom were the plaintiffs, at $2 a share, and then in order to deliver it, at the suggestion of other confederates, they borrowed it from the defendants, making the customary marginal deposits; that from time to time sham sales were made by the confederates, at advancing prices, and more margin demanded, until the plaintiffs had deposited nearly $9,000; that afterward a pretended purchase was made at $32 per share, placing the plaintiffs in debt to the defendants; that an investigation was made by the Board of Petroleum Brokers, resulting in the expulsion of Kendall & Co. from the board and the striking of the stock off the list. The plaintiffs in this action demand back their margin with interest.

The case has occupied more than a week, and was yesterday concluded.

The counsel for the defendant, in commenting on the evidence, claimed that it was clearly shown that so far from there being a corner, it was impossible between the 26th and 29th of June, when plaintiff's purchases should have been made, to sell large quantities of stock offering at $3 50; that during those three days large transactions were made at prices below $2 50; that afterward, large transactions were made at $5 and under; and finally, that the President of the board had found no difficulty in purchasing under the rules of the board stock for Lawrence, Brown & Lane at $19; that, in truth, the plaintiffs had made no effort to purchase the stock, but had preferred to seek protection from the law from the effects of their own mistake. He then discussed other facts to show that the defendants had no part in creating the corner. The stock could not be a swindle, the plaintiffs having afterward, in August, dealt in it. He then discussed the action of the Stock Board, and claimed that this was the action of "shorts," under the advice of counsel, to prevent the defendants from giving testimony as to the market value of the stock, by preventing it being quoted on the board; that it appeared that 200,000 shares of the stock were in the hands of the Live Yankee Company, and only 100,000 shares as working capital was placed in the hands of this company, of which but 12,000 was shown to be in the possession of the defendants, while the high price of the stock tempted out a portion of the 200,000 shares; that there was nothing whatever shown in the case to connect the defendants with any conspiracy or fraud in the matter.

The case was then summed up by the counsel for the plaintiff, after which the court charged the jury, substantially that if the stock were worthless, or if while it had some value the market rate was raised by sham and collusive sales made by the plaintiffs, or any confederates of theirs, the plaintiffs must recover, unless they were at the time of depositing the margins aware of all the facts.

The jury, after a short absence, returned a verdict for plaintiffs for $9,100 66.

Messrs. D. D. Field, D. Field and T. C. Buckley for plaintiffs; Messrs. Knox and Fullerton for defendants.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge Russel.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, District-Attorney Bedford succeeded in clearing the entire day-calendar of fourteen cases.

LOST HIS MONEY.

Caroline Armstrong was tried for stealing $45 from Dederick Vogt. The complainant met the prisoner on the 8th of November, at No. 133 Greenwich-st.; took a couple of drinks; went out with her and another girl to a refreshment saloon; then returned and remained in her room three hours. He saw his money at the time of entering the room. When the prisoner was at the station-house, she was seen putting something into her mouth; when asked what it was, she said, "A chew of tobacco." She was not compelled to disclose what it was, but subsequently the doorkeeper found in her cell some greenbacks which had been chewed up.

The jury found a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was sent to the State Prison for five years.

STOLE SOME TEA.

Patrick Kavanagh was tried for stealing, on the 24th of June, eighty pounds of tea from the store of Burdett, Jones & Co. A boy in the employ of the firm testified that the prisoner procured from him the key to the room in which the missing tea was kept and paid him $2 for the use of it. The defence attempted to show that the tea the prisoner had sold was the sweepings, which by the rules of the store he was entitled to. He was found guilty of petit larceny. Penitentiary six months and fined $100.

STEALING CLOTHING.

Charles Fisher, a youth, was tried for stealing $50 worth of clothing from the steamer John S. Hasbrook, on the 8th of November. He was seen in the saloon with some clothing in his hand, which he threw into a chair and sat down upon it. When asked whose it was he replied, "I did not take them." Guilty—State Prison three years.

LOST HIS WATCH.

George Newton was placed on trial for stealing a watch from Francis Blair. The night of the 14th of October, the complainant was standing at the corner of Varick and Carmine streets, three men passed him, when a lady standing near said they had taken his watch. He found it gone and saw one of them hand it to the prisoner. He pursued, caught one with each hand, keeping the third before him, and shouted for the police, but none made their appearance. The one in the middle struck Blair with a pair of knuckles, who, fearing he might be stabbed, drew off and kept them at bay with his cane. By this time a policeman came up and took hold of Blair when the scamps ran off. The person on trial was subsequently arrested and identified by Blair as one of the three. The defence brought two witnesses to prove an alibi, and the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

PLEADED GUILTY.

Patrick Thompson, of an attempt at petit larceny from the person, in stealing, on the 9th of September, a watch from Wm. E. Veill—State Prison two years; Charles James, of larceny, in stealing, on the 24th of October, a chain valued at $150 from Garret Smith—Penitentiary two years; John Strauss, of an attempt at grand larceny, in stealing, on the 8th of September, clothing to the amount of $120, the property of Geo. S. Shortridge—Penitentiary one year; James McGroth, of petit larceny, from the person, in taking from John H. Still several promissory notes, the 16th of October—remanded; W. H. Clark, of an attempt at grand larceny, in stealing $35 worth of clothing, the 18th of Otober, belonging to John Murphy—Penitentiary one year.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22—P. M.

The price of Gold is steady to-day at 146⅞@147 ₱ cent. The differences made in the Gold Room from hour to hour, and of late from day to day, are not over ¼@⅜ ₱ cent., and most generally ⅛@¼ ₱ cent., which, of course, scarcely justifies speculation, whether for the rise or fall. To-day there is an appearance of firmness in Exchange on London, at 108⅜@109 ₱ cent., and engagements for Saturday's mail are making at both figures, free of brokerage. The California steamer yesterday delivered about $550,000 in Gold bars, which have been taken up for shipment by the steamer of Saturday. Some Silver bars, the product of the Washoe or Nevada mines, were also received by the same steamer, and about $150,000 in Gold coin. The Customs demand to-day was $497,000, which was readily met at 146⅞@147 ₱ cent.

The market for Money is working with increased ease to the Stock Brokers at 6@7 ₱ cent., strictly on call, while the Discount Brokers report no change in the rates for Merchant paper, say 7 to 9 ₱ cent. Lenders, as a rule, prefer to accept the lower rates on Stock collateral, to keep their balances within easy control. This is especially so where they can get Government Securities, which bonds being undoubted in point of credit, carry an unfailing and good rate of interest. The deposits with the Treasury at 6 ₱ cent. are again on the increase. These are repayable on ten days notice after the deposit has been thirty days in the office. The general ease of the market is gradually influencing an upward speculation in the Railways and Miscellaneous Shares at the Stock Exchange, though the movement continues, for the most part, to run in cliques and on specialties.

At the Stock Exchange and on Wall Street there was an active business in Government Securities. Among the Gold-bearing Stocks the new issue of 5-20s, known as 1865s, attracted more attention, as being the cheapest on the list. The sales were 99⅜@99½ ₱ cent. The Railway speculation was quite animated, especially so on Michigan Southern and both classes of Northwest. In Erie the business improved in amount, though not in price. New-York Central, Reading and Fort Wayne were all firmer than yesterday, and Fort Wayne and Hudson River in good request. The Miscellaneous list is being extended, and dealings were had in Lehigh and Susquehanna Coal, Schuylkill Coal, New-York Guano Company, Mariposa, Mariposa Preferred, Canton, Cumberland and Wyoming Valley Coal, all at full rates.

At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made as compared with Tuesday afternoon. The Railway speculation continued active on Northwest, Michigan Southern, Pittsburgh, &c. The Prairie du Chien "corner" having been settled up, the Stock is now quoted on the merits of the Board itself, and the prospects of a dividend on the Common Stock. The First Preferred is 102½; Second, 91; Common Stock, 99@100.

Several new Anthracite Coal Companies have recently been introduced to the dealings of the Stock Exchange at low figures. We have looked into their programmes, as set forth in pamphlet form: 1. The Lehigh and Susquehanna Company. Their property is in Wilkesbarre, Penn., capitalized at one million of dollars, divided into fifty thousand shares, of the par value of $20, now selling at $11½@$11⅝ per share. The mines have been opened for several years. and are reported productive. The only mortgage on the property is for $150,000, to pay which 10,000 shares of the stock are reserved. The present production of coal is reckoned at 60,000 tons per annum. 2. The Schuylkill Coal Company, coal lands not yet developed, in the Schuylkill County fields of Pennsylvania, capitalized at $2,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares, of the par value of $20, now selling at $11@$11½ per share. The property is mortgaged for five years for $250,000, to pay which 20,000 shares are reserved, and as a working capital, 14,000 shares additional are reserved. We know nothing of the original cost of either property, but, in answer to inquiries on the subject, briefly present the figures of capital, &c., from the pamphlets before us.

The Liverpool National Line of Steamers for New-York, heretofore in charge, on the American side, of Messrs. WILLIAMS & GUION, of this city, has been surrendered to a special New-York Agent of the Company. Messrs. WILLIAMS & GUION have established a line of their own, in connection with certain English interests, the pioneer ship of which, the screw steamer Moravia, arrived yesterday. The new American line of steamers for Havre, (or the old line restored,) embracing the well-known and popular side-wheel steamers Arago and Fulton, thoroughly in repair and complete in appointments, will start from this side on Saturday next, the Arago taking the lead outward.

VOLUME I. NOW READY.
VOLUME II. (completion) NEARLY READY.

Other histories of the terrible contest through which we have so lately passed have been put upon the market, each having its peculiar claims for popular consideration, but none has met with the unqualified indorsement and public patronage accorded to this since issued by the undersigned; and the daily increase in orders fully justifies the conviction that no other work can be more popular. It is, without exception, the cheapest history now being published, while the reputation of the authoress is a sufficient guarantee of its merits as a truthful and literary production. It will consist of over 1,000 pages of readable matter; over 250 splendid engravings, illustrating battles, heroic incidents, and points of interest, fortifications on land, gunboats and other appliances of naval warfare; correct likenesses and biographical sketches of the most prominent Generals on both sides; illustrations of the New-York Draft Riots and the Funeral Obsequies of President Lincoln; in all forming a very valuable collection.

Price for the two volumes bound in cloth, $5; bound in embossed leather, $7. Sold only by subscription. Liberal terms to agents. Special territory assigned on application. Address BENJ. W. HITCHCOCK, Publisher, No. 14 Chambers-st., New-York.

PANIC!
PANIC!
PANIC!

It is with great pleasure we announce that the closing days of last week witnessed another tremendous panic in all classes of dry goods, especially in prints, muslins flannels and domestics generally. We shall offer TO-DAY a handsome line of genuine Merrimack prints at the low figure of 25c. a yard. We have also bought largely of Canton flannels, woolen flannels, cloths, cassimeres, dress goods, blankets, alpacas, &c., which we intend offering to our customers almost as low as we bought them ourselves. With no old stock on hand, bought at high prices, to cripple us, we admit we are interested in adding our mite toward "breaking" the market thoroughly, and to that end intend for the present to sell goods nearly at cost.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Montreal Gazette says that militia of that city is to be recruited to the full strength of the battalions. The English Workingmen's Benefit Society purpose organizing themselves into two strong companies. It is also purposed to organize an engineer battalion, the nucleus of which will be the two fine companies now commanded by Capts. Forsyth and Kennedy, and the other companies of which will be raised from the Grand Trunk workmen. Mr. Brydges has taken the matter in hand, and some of the finest "bone and sinew" in the Province will probably soon be added to the effective strength of the militia garrison. Col. Coursol has been requested by the department to resume the command of the Chasseurs Canadiens. This revival is mainly due to the presence of the Adjutant-General and his effective staff, whose office by right should be permanently established here—the largest militia centre in the Province. We may add that, by way of enabling the volunteers to get their "prentice hands" in, the sentry is made to pace his lonely rounds at the different armories every night.

The Memphis Bulletin of the 17th prints the decision of Judge Trigg in the McCann case. It assumes that the rebels were belligerents, entitled to all the rights of civilized warfare, to the same extent as the United States. Consequently, McCann cannot be punished for an act done in the line of his duty as a Confederate officer. But as Congress has prohibited the Judges of Federal courts from interference in such cases, he declines to issue the writ of habeas corpus prayed for. The Confederacy, he says, was not a government de facto. This decision averts a conflict of jurisdiction which might have been unpleasant. The Sheriff of Knox County was instructed to disregard the writ, and if necessary to call out the military to resist it. McCann's friends applied some time since to Gen. Thomas' forces to aid in the execution of the writ, which they felt sure would be used. Gen. Thomas, however, declined furnishing the assistance requested, assuming that his duty was to sustain the State authorities.

Dr. Chambers, of Kingston, N. Y., was beset by two stout highwaymen in a lonely part of the road a few nights since, and his money demanded. The doctor said: "Well, if I must give up my money, I had better do it." So he quietly took off his glove, and putting his hand into his side pocket, he drew out—not his pocket-book—but a neat revolver, and bringing it to bear in an instant, he shot one of the robbers dead. The other ruffian then fired at the doctor, but the ball went harmlessly through his hat. The doctor then took his turn again and wounded the fellow severely. He then rode back to Kingston and made known the facts, but on returning the wounded man had escaped.

The Nashville Press of Nov. 17 has this paragraph in its editorial columns: "A private letter received from an entirely trustworthy source in Washington, says that President Johnson, in a private interview with the writer, expressed himself highly gratified with the vote of the Tennessee Senate, adopting the negro testimony bill, and added that he earnestly hoped that the House of Representatives would take similar action and make the bill a law. We intreat the House to come bravely up to the work. Sustain the President, and the right, by deeds, not by empty words."

The oil-wells of Canada West are said to be an established fact. They are situated near the Thames River, in the vicinity of Bothwell. The Toronto papers state that seven are already giving oil at the rate of from thirty to forty barrels a day, and the region has every indication of being well stocked with the article. So Prof. Hall, the geologist, and the experienced oil-prospecter, says. Bothwell is rapidly becoming a thriving town—buildings of various kinds going up, the Great Western Railway is enlarging its accommodations, land sales and high prices the order of the day.

At the late siege of Matamoras by the Liberal forces, quite a number of the officers and men of the white brigade of the United States Army were inspired by the gallantry of the charge, of which they were witnesses from the American side, and of which an account has been given, to give vent to enthusiastic cheers, whereupon four shots were deliberately fired at the assembled group from the Imperial steamer Pisano, through whose agency alone the attack of the Liberals was defeated. We have no information as to casualties consequent upon this strange procedure.

The summary of the crops of 1865, published by the Department of Agriculture, presents several interesting features. The wheat crop is very deficient both in quantity and quality, the decrease in quantity alone from 1864, being estimated at 12,172,944 bushels. On the other hand, the corn crop was never surpassed in any respect. In quantity alone the excess over the crop of 1864, is more than 143,000,000 bushels. The quality of other crops is equal to the general average of former years; and the total excess for 1865 over 1864, is 215,071,411 bushels,

The Fenian Sisterhood gave a grand ball in Buffalo on Tuesday evening, which was largely attended. The Green Flag of Erin and the Stars and Stripes, were freely displayed in all parts of the ballroom. A splendid Irish flag was displayed over the English flag, with the British cross turned downward, and the red of the flag concealed. On this was the following motto: "The Red Cross of England shall fall beneath the Eagle and the Harp."

Major-Gen. Canby has issued an order announcing the formation of a commission for the purpose of selecting such portions of the wharf and levee space, in the port of New-Orleans, as may be needed for the use of the War, Navy and Treasury Departments. The City Surveyor was invited to attend the sessions of the commission, the hour and place of holding which are to be determined by the commission.

Rev. E. Stuart Dodge delivered an extremely interesting lecture on "Syria," last evening, before the Young Men's Christian Association. He has lately returned from the Holy Land, and is well informed on all the matters relating to his subject, having held a Professorship in the College at Beyrout. The weather did not hinder a very large number of persons from being most amusingly and instructively entertained.

A private letter from Jacksonville, Fla., states that the missing steamer D. H. Mount, was seen by the Captain of a schooner on the 24th of October, in the very height of the great gale, about two hundred miles below Hatteras. The Captain says the steamer did not seem to be disabled at that time, and he thinks that she may have been blown to the Bahamas, whence it would be difficult to hear from her.

Nashville papers give returns from nineteen counties in Alabama, which show for Patton, 8,963; for Bulger, 6,758; for Smith, 154. Patton is a native of Huntsville, Ala., an experienced legislator, and one of the wealthiest citizens of the State. All of the candidates are competent men. Bulger was a Colonel in the rebel service.

The Pensacola Observer, a handsome weekly journal, made its reappearance on the 4th inst. Col. J. W. Ricks is the collector for the port of Pensacola, and entered upon the discharge of his duties in July last. The Observer says such arrangements have been made that there is a fair prospect of the Alabama and Florida Railroad being completed in six months.

Canadian papers are hard pressed to keep up the Fenian excitement; in fact, there is no excitement at all. Beyond a general order to get the usual military bodies into working trim and the sending of half a dozen companies on brief excursions, there has been really nothing done thus far.

A Macon paper contradicts, upon the authority of Hon. A. H. Stephens himself, the report that he said that Hon. Henry Wilson, Senator from Massachusetts, had declared he would vote for the admission of the Southern members in Congress. Mr. Stephens never made such a statement.

LOCAL NEWS.

A convention of tobacco manufacturers was held yesterday at the Cooper Institute, under the auspices of the National Tobacconists' Association. The objects of the meeting was to resolve upon a proper course of action in appealing to Congress to remove the existing tax upon manufactured tobacco and place it upon the leaf, as dishonest manufacturers were ruining honest trade by defrauding the revenue. The convention was earnest in tone, and was addressed by some of the leading men in the trade.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday the entire calendar was disposed of by District-Attorney Bedford and Judge Russel, most of the prisoners pleading to the indictments. She was convicted and sentenced to the State Prison for five years.

The lists embrace the names of forty-one pensioners.

In the case of the Napoleon Oil Company, in which Chas. H. Carr, and others, sue to recover deposits made with Henry R. Kendall, as margin on a loan of 500 shares of the stock, the jury yesterday brought in a verdict for the plaintiffs for the full amount claimed $9,100 66.

The How-not-to-do-it Policy.

If it be true that "where there is a will there is a way," the prime question is whether there is a will. It is the having no will to do a thing that makes what is called an "impracticable," and to be that is to be without any right to moral influence. There are men who have no will that the South should soon be restored. They are full of objections against the President's plan, which spring not so much from opposition to the particular mode of restoration, as to the restoration itself. They are shut up to the "foregone conclusion" that the South ought not, for an indefinite period hence, to enjoy again its full constitutional powers. In many cases, this comes from an honest belief that the Southern whites will not, for years, be fit to be trusted with any power over the race they have so lately held in slavery. In many other cases, it is but the offspring of that old vindictive feeling of the human heart which delights in keeping down a prostrate enemy. In other cases still, it proceeds from a dread of the revived political power of the South, as a mischievous element in the future politics of the country. But however various the motives, the result is the same—a policy of obstruction and procrastination. The only study of these people is how not to do it. Objections against any plan which proceed from such a condition of mind are but mere pretexts, and have no title to consideration.

A good deal has been said about an establishment of negro suffrage in the Southern States as a prerequisite to their restoration. But to no small extent this talk has been but a covert for the ulterior purpose of keeping them out at all events. We are forced to believe this, because there is an habitual avoidance of all discussion of the method by which this suffrage is to be secured. The eight million of Southern whites are, almost to a man, most strongly opposed to it. How is their will to be permanently overruled? By the war power of the President? But that power, even if it embraced the question of suffrage, which it cannot, terminates the instant the restoration is effected; and the States would again be free to do their own will. Shall negro suffrage be secured by an amendment of the constitution? That, if practicable, would be the only true mode. We adopted it in respect to negro freedom. We did not trust to any permanent effect of the Emancipation Proclamation, or to any abolition ordained by the conventions of the States seeking to return. We have understood that the permanent validity of the proclamation might be hereafter denied, and that future conventions might undo the ordinances of the present. Therefore we have insisted upon the incorporation of a perpetual interdict of slavery into the Federal Constitution, where it will be for all time to come beyond the reach of any Southern option. But not the first proposition has been made for a similar amendment to secure permanently negro suffrage. Why? Is it because negro suffrage does not require as strong a safeguard for its permanency as negro freedom? If the latter, though supported by a proclamation issued with plenary war powers, and by the deliberate acceptance of the Southern States in the most solemn of all forms, was not deemed safe unless protected by the bulwark of the Federal Constitution, how could the former, without either of the other defences, do without this last great safeguard? It could not stand a day against Southern will, after the Southern States once received back their civil powers. Yet no sign of a movement has been made to procure a counterpart of the anti-slavery amendment in a pro-suffrage amendment. The requisite three-fourths majority of the States could never be obtained, and everybody knows it. After all the declamation of the last six months about the right of freemen to the franchise, those who have indulged in it are still as far as ever from submitting any scheme for permanently forcing the Southern States to acknowledge that right. They have avoided this for no other reason than because they know that any scheme they could devise would carry its impracticable character on its face. Affirmatively they confine themselves to mere abstract sentimentalizing; negatively, to embarrassing President Johnson's plan. It all resolves itself, as we have said, into a simple obstructive policy—a policy of keeping the South out for an indefinite period.

The real question is, whether an early restoration of the South is expedient. Those who really believe this, find no difficulty in supporting President Johnson's plan, as both just and effective—just, because the prerequisites insisted upon are all the logical consequences of the war, and effective, because the Southern States can and will accept them, with a full purpose to abide by them. To oppose that plan is nothing else than to go for postponing the restoration of the South indefinitely. No project could be worse than that. Its whole working would be to hinder all good, and to promote all evil. It is of almost vital consequence to the finances of the country that the industry of the South should be speedily reëstablished, and the great Southern staples be again produced in something like their old mighty measure. This cannot be done so long as the South remains under military government, and with a future altogether uncertain. The capital which is necessary for the purpose will not go to the South without the certainty of a settled condition of society, which civil safeguards alone can guarantee. To postpone the restoration is not only to sink the national credit, but is to keep the Southern people impoverished and humiliated, and to excite in their hearts the very worst feelings against the government. The whole North has been astonished by the universality and the promptness of their submission to the government, after the overthrow of their armies. A year ago few deemed such a change possible. The present spirit of the South is surely remarkable, and we ought to make the most of it in using it, while still fresh, to recement the Union. If repelled, it will inevitably turn to bitterness and hate, and work endless discord and confusion. The Union party would belie its name if it failed to sustain President Johnson in his opening of the only feasible way for a speedy return of the South to its old constitutional place in the Union.

The Tribune's Candidates for Mayor and Corporation Counsel.

The Citizens' Association have presented the names of John Hecker for Mayor, and Richard O'Gorman for Corporation Counsel. The former is a Republican, the latter a Democrat, but both are heartily in favor of the reform which the Association aims at. Neither desires any concealment of his political views, nor seeks to belittle or apologize for them. We hope Mr. Hecker may be nominated by the Republicans.—Tribune.

This cannot be permitted. The Tribune will consult its own purposes in reference to candidates for Mayor and Corporation Counsel. But it may not palm "Copperheads" off as Republicans; The Democracy made an impudent attempt to "sail in" under false colors, but the attempt was signally rebuked.

Mr. Hecker is not a Republican. He voted for McClellan, Pendleton and Seymour. His action and language during the rebellion was unequivocally with those whom the Tribune denounced as "Copperheads." He applauded Mayor Gunther for vetoing the resolution of the Common Council in favor of illuminating the city in honor of Union victories. His denunciations of President Lincoln were frequent and bitter. We repeat, therefore, that while the Tribune is at liberty to support "Copperheads" for Mayor and Corporation Counsel, it may not mislead Union electors by imputing Republicanism to Mr. Hecker. The Tribune takes Mr. O'Gorman with his secession record—Mr. Hecker is of the same stripe. It must support both as "Copperheads."

Model Lodging Houses.

Why should New-York be so far behind European cities, in the great charity of providing improved dwellings for the poor and the laboring classes?

There is no city where the lower classes so much need a good home. More people are crowded over a given surface—owing to our peculiar plan of building large tenement houses—than in any other civilized city. There is a single house in the Fourth Ward capable of holding 1,500 persons—or the population of a moderate sized village. The old and new tenement houses are built without the slightest regard to the health or convenience of the tenants. There is no good system of ventilation or sufficient accommodation for the separation of sexes. The privies are frequently cess-pools and become centres of disease and pestilence. The halls and rooms are seldom ever whitewashed, even after a season of typhoid. Then one house is built close upon the rear of another, so that little air or light reaches a portion of the rooms, and they become known as "fever-nests" in the descriptions of sanitarians. The nuisance and evil from tenement-houses have mounted up beyond all estimate, and no city of Europe presents more terrible scenes of filth and disease, and moral contamination, from the massing of human beings in close and vile quarters, than does New-York at this time.

When the cholera comes, we shall hear the sentence from the laws of Providence on this frightful neglect of sanitary provisions. The evil of a great many people over a given space must continue in New-York for years. The form of our city compels the crowding of our population within narrow spaces. The workmen must live near their places of work—land will always be high here, and if high, the interest of landlords will compel them to accommodate the greatest number over the least ground surface. Large tenement-houses must be built.

It is true that the building of underground railways, the erection of low-priced cottage-houses in the suburbs, and improved and cheap means of transit, may bring the laborers sufficiently near their work and relieve the pressure on the New-York crowded quarters. But these hopeful results are distant.

The question now is how to build tenement-houses which shall be well ventilated, with proper accommodation for families, under good supervision, having light and air, and with healthful provision for the wants of the tenants. Such buildings can easily be erected; buildings with airy, healthy rooms, where the sexes are separated, where each family has a pleasant home at a low rent, where cleanliness is maintained, and nuisances are abolished, and epidemic disease is almost driven away, and morality is the law. They can be built profitably, yielding from seven to ten per cent. per annum.

These are "model lodging houses." The above is the experience of England. They are the offering of capital to labor; but not altogether a charity: giving back a fair return, and benefiting all classes. They show what wealth, under a sense of its responsibility, can do for poverty; and they prove that here an enlightened self-interest will go hand in hand with benevolence. They are designed as "models" to the landlords, to prove to them that they need not poison and debase their tenants for the sake of a good investment; that justice and profit can go together.

It is a marvel to observers how respectable and Christian gentlemen, who, in all other matters, act under a high sense of duty or religion, can so completely neglect and disregard their tenement property. Many of them never come near their houses. They know nothing of the condition of their tenants, or the sanitary state of their houses. They suffer, year after year, their tenants to be poisoned and corrupted by the wretched condition of their houses, and leave the whole matter to their agents, often men of no feeling or character. We doubt if any Southern slave-master was ever so entirely indifferent to the welfare of his slaves as are some of these capitalists to those who occupy their dwellings!

The overcrowding and the uncleanliness of these tenement-houses, with the nuisances which afflict them, we hope to reach after next Winter, through the Health Bill. If that act is passed and executed, it will make, in time, a clean sweep of the nuisances of the city. But the mode of building new tenement-houses must depend, at least till special legislation, on the taste and knowledge and interests of the landlords.

If a private association could be started, like the many in London, as a joint-stock company, to build "model houses," they could derive a fair profit, and confer a vast and permanent blessing on this metropolis. They would prove to well-intentioned landlords what could be done in such buildings in giving air and light and health to tenants, and in promoting morality, and at the same time show a reasonable return on the investment. To selfish and indifferent house-owners they would offer a competition which in time would be so successful as to force them to build better houses. Their own tenants would derive advantages not to be measured from the opening of these houses, as the experience of London in diminished mortality and improved moral conduct in the corresponding buildings well shows.

Who will open "model homes for the poor" in New-York?

Cheap Living.—There are a large number of laborers, white and yellow, or European and Chinese, engaged in constructing the Western Division of the Pacific Railroad over the Sierra Nevada Mountains. The white laborers are paid thirty dollars a month with board, and the yellow laborers thirty-one dollars a month without board. This is an allowance to the latter class of just one dollar a month for their board. It is not a large sum, but, we have no doubt, with the economical habits of the Chinese, it goes a long way toward their sustenance. Rice is cheap, and rats, we have no doubt, are plenty; and from the fibre and farinacious substance in these twain, the Chinaman manages to derive flesh and bones of sufficient strength to undergo the heaviest labors. We do not wish to commend their customs or their economies to our own people; but in these days of high prices and hard living, our nabobs might learn from them a lesson in the reduction of expenses.

Gen. Scott Going South.—Gen. Scott, who is escaping from the rigors of a Northern Winter, awaits at the Astor House, the departure of a steamer for New-Orleans.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

Washington, Wednesday, Nov. 22.

RABE AND HIS CONFEDERATES COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

William Rabe, a claim agent; Barthold Dresser, late clerk in the Second Auditor's office, and Harmon Gossman, who were confederated for the purpose of defrauding the government by the abstraction of papers in the cases of deceased and discharged soldiers, have been committed for trial in the default of the aggregate of $35,000 bail for their appearance. The Second Auditor testified that had the abstraction of the papers not been discovered for a few months, a million of dollars might have been thus fraudulently collected from the government. The parties involved in the fraudulent transactions have made written confessions of their guilt.

CONSCIENCE-MONEY.

The Secretary of the Treasury is almost daily in receipt of installments of conscience-money, which the perturbed moral sense of a guilty office-holder or other defrauder of the government suggests the payment of in order to obtain "a still and quiet conscience."

To-day the Secretary received forty dollars inclosed in a letter of which the following is a copy:

> Washington, Nov. 22.
> To Hon. H. McCulloch, Secretar of the Treasury:
> Dear Sir: Inclosed you will find forty dollars, due the Treasury of the United States.
> A CATHOLIC CLERGYMAN.

No explanation or other statement than the above accompanied the money. Of course the fund was paid to the clergyman as confessor of a conscience-stricken sinner.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

It appears from the official correspondence that President Johnson takes great interest in the coming Paris Universal Exposition for 1867, and that this fact was communicated to the French Councillor of State and Special Commissioner. Minister Bigelow was instructed by Secretary Seward to ask for an extension of time within which the Commissioner of the United States will be required to present his plan to the 31st of January next. To this the Imperial Commission assented, and in a note to Minister Bigelow the Councillor of State says:

"I am glad to renew to you the assurance of the very lively interest which I attach personally to seeing at last, for the first time, your great nation represented at an Universal Exposition. I add that I am in this only the interpreter of the desires of the Emperor and of the Imperial Commission."

TREASURY DECISIONS.

The Second Comptroller of the Treasury has made the following decisions:

"Officers discharged to take effect from a particular anterior date, who do not receive notice of their discharge until some time afterward, and who in the meantime continue on duty, come within the second paragraph of General Orders, No. 103, 1864, relating to resigned officers, and are entitled to pay to the date on which such discharge or notice was received. An officer holding a commission on the 3d of March, 1865, and continuing in the military service of the United States until Aug. 15, 1865, was rendered supernumerary by the consolidation of his own regiment with another, and, in consequence, discharged, held that, as he was not discharged the service under any orders of the War Department for the reduction of the army, he is not entitled to the three months' pay proper provided by the act of Congress, March 3, 1865, inasmuch as he has not served to the close of the war within the meaning of the law."

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

To-day the Secretary of the Treasury received from the executors of a patriotic citizen of Indiana, recently deceased, a $1,000 United States ten-forty bond bequeathed by the deceased to the government, to be applied so far as it will go toward the payment of the national debt.

PARDONS GRANTED.

An evening paper states the number of pardons granted by the President at twenty thousand; the number will actually not reach eight thousand, and the applications on file are about twenty thousand. No pardons are now being granted. The President endeavors to devote some time each day to his message, and the rough draft of it is now nearly complete. Very few persons were admitted to his presence to-day.

CLEMENT C. CLAY.

Mrs. C. C. Clay, wife of the noted rebel of that name, had an interview with the President to-day for the purpose of securing the release of her husband. She was very courteously received, and expresses confidence that her request will be granted.

HUMPHREY MARSHALL ASKING FOR PARDON.

Humphrey Marshall, of Kentucky, with less of flesh than he had before the war, occasioned by violent exercise in his retreat, was at the Attorney-General's office to-day looking after his pardon. But he couldn't report much progress.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS IN WASHINGTON.

Though less than two weeks intervene prior to the meeting of Congress, but few members have yet arrived. The expense of living here has so frightfully increased that they defer coming to the last moment. The foregone conclusion that the organization of the House will be substantially the same as last session also seems to render an early appearance here unnecessary.

THE SHENANDOAH.

The surrender of the Shenandoah to our consul at Liverpool has been the subject of much comment today in official circles. The Secretary of the Navy expressed regret that the Consul received the ship without waiting for instructions from his government.

THE LATE PIRATE STONEWALL.

AMUSEMENTS.

Concert of Mr. F. Jehin Prume.—The expectations which the public had of an artist who bears a name so well known and esteemed as that of Prume, attracted a large audience to Irving Hall, on Saturday last, and we are happy to state that these expectations were realized to a great extent. Mr. Prume is a gentleman who evidently has appeared frequently in the concert-room, and is no novice in his art. His style is eminently French, and of the same school which was best represented by Bazzini, Ole Bull, Beriot, Prume, and which disappears more and more since Joachim, Laub, Singer, and other classical German players, have returned to the old masters. We therefore must judge Mr. Prume exclusively from the standing-point of a salon-player; and in this respect he is a very talented and admirable artist. His playing is technically marvelous, and there are no difficulties which Mr. Prume does not overcome with the greatest ease. His "staccato" is distinct and graceful, his flageolet pure and sympathetic; he plays the chromatic scale perfect, and he renders every "fioritura" and "cadenza" exceedingly well. His bowing also is very good, although not free from coquetry. If the foregoing qualifications alone would suffice to constitute the claim of a modern violinist to the name of a first-class artist, we should not hesitate to call Mr. Prume so. But Mr. Prume lacks some essential qualities for such a name. His tone is very small, and he almost incessantly whines whenever he has to play portamento or rostenuto. He phrases well enough, but he never gives the last note of a phrase its full value, but removes his bow with a disagreeable suddenness. He furthermore lacks quietude, and works painfully with his entire body during every variation, as if he wanted to show how difficult it was to get a certain figure out of the instrument. He also very often corrects the composer's work with an amiable "insouciance," which was especially disagreeable in his rendition of Ernst's "Elegy," a piece seldom heard to greater disadvantage. As a result of Mr. Prume's playing on Saturday last, we have to say that he has nothing more to learn, but a great deal to unlearn, and this he will undoubtedly do, as he is a young gentleman yet. A number of well-meaning, but highly injudicious friends, interrupted every piece by their extremely offensive applause, and evidently embarrassed the artist. Of the artists assisting Mr. Prume we mention Mr. Mills, who played superbly as ever, and Miss Zelda Harrison, a very promising young mezzosoprano, who was exceedingly well received.

Theodore Thomas' First Symphony Concert.—The first symphony concert of Mr. Theodore Thomas was eminently enjoyable, and was attended by a highly critical and large audience, which proved the appreciation of the valuable efforts of Mr. Thomas for music in this city. The orchestral works performed on this occasion were the Fourth Symphony by Beethoven, Liszt's symphony "Mazeppa," and the "Invitation à la dance," arranged by Berlioz. The first and last of these works have been so often performed in this city that we can dismiss them with the remark that they were excellently rendered and deservedly applauded. Of Liszt's Mazeppa, however, we may state that the performance was a decided improvement over that at the Philharmonic concert. Mr. Thomas, who some months ago had advertised that he would perform the work in his first concert, gave us a clearer insight into the composer's intentions, and threw more passion into the work than was done before. He was also very happy in the climax, and gave a more uniform and dramatic performance of the work.

Mr. Mason played Morgan's "Allegro de Concert," a rather long and not too interesting piece, with all the polished gracefulness and clearness which characterizes this eminent pianist. We hope to enjoy the pleasure of hearing Mr. Mason in the concert room more repeatedly. Mme. Fleeng Urban, a lady of a remarkable and powerful voice, created a very favorable impression, although she is evidently affected from the influence of the French method of singing. We learn that Mr. Thomas has made arrangements for his orchestra to accept engagements for concerts and other occasions. The particulars of the new enterprise of Mr. Thomas may be found in our advertising columns.

The Bateman concert troupe is highly successful in the West, and the press is especially enthusiastic about Madame Parepa and Mr. Levy.

Messrs. Formes intend to resume their concert tour at an early day, Mr. Theodore Formes having partly recovered from a very severe cold.

The Memorial Concert to Mr. W. Vincent Wallace promises to be an extraordinarily grand affair. The committee, of which Mr. Max Maretzek is the chairman, have resolved to engage from 100 to 120 orchestral performers for the occasion, and to compose the programme from the works of the late composer only, with the exception of Beethoven's Funeral March from the "Eroica," which will be played at the beginning of the concert. Mr. Maretzek has kindly tendered the services of Miss Kellogg, Miss Phillips, Signor Bossisio and Signor Rossi, as also of Messrs. Massimiliani, Irfre, Ardavani and Roverr. Mr. Berge, in the name of the Mendelssohn Union, and Mr. E. Pinkert, Conductor of the New-York Singacademie. A German Choral Societies have tendered the services of their respective society, and it is expected that the same will be done by many of our best orchestral performers. Agents will be appointed by the Executive Committee in the large cities of the United States, who will be authorized to receive subscriptions to the fund. The concert will take place on December 14, at the Academy of Music, on which occasion the house will be draped in mourning. The price of admission has been fixed at $2, with an extra charge of 50 cents for a reserved seat. The next meeting of the committee will be held at Irving Hall on Saturday next, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Fra Diavolo in Brooklyn.—To-night will end the subscription season in Brooklyn; "Fra Diavolo" being given with Kellogg, Stockton and Bellini in the cast.

A Valuable Theatrical History Proposed.

Mr. Morrill, No. 134 Fulton-street, has issued a prospectus for publishing, by subscription, a new theatrical history, entitled "Records of the New-York Stage, Historical and Biographical, from 1750 to 1860, by H. N. D." It is proposed, provided sufficient subscriptions are received to defray the cost, to publish the work in two volumes of about 600 pages each. The edition will be limited to 260 copies, and will be printed in the best style; 200 copies octavo on fine paper, at $15 per copy; 60 copies quarto on heavy tinted paper, at $30 per copy.

Such a work is greatly needed, and we cannot doubt that the subscription will far exceed the extent proposed. The author has enjoyed a long life of observation and experience before the curtain, with extensive personal acquaintance among those of whom he will discourse. He commences rather earlier than Dunlap's History, (the only one we have,) and continues nearly half a century later. Rough drafts of some of his chapters were published, several years ago, in the New-York Mirror, and attracted much attention and commendation at the time.

THE FENIAN FLURRY.

Active Military Preparations—Distribution of Quotas for Volunteers—Schedule of Pay—The Excitement Subsiding in the Western Districts.

The Quebec Gazette of Saturday contains a militia general order, calling out nine volunteer companies for such period as the Governor deems necessary. One company is to be taken from each of the following places: Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Morrisburgh, Toronto, Port Hope, London, Hamilton and Woodstock. The pay of the officers per day will be as follows: Lieutenant-Colonels, $4 80; Majors, $3 90; Paymasters, $3 05; Captains, $2 82; Lieutenants, $1 58; Ensigns, $1 28. The pay of the non-commissioned officers and privates will be: Sergeant-Majors, 60 cents; Sergeants, 35 cents; Corporals, 30 cents; privates, 25 cents. This is, in every case, in addition to the rations. There are some complaints that 25 cents per day is too small remuneration for the privates. It is, however, about as much as the British soldiers get. In some, at least, of the towns which are sending companies, no difficulty has been experienced in filling up the companies at that rate of pay. If the country was ever called upon to put a large force in the field, the tax-payers would find the 25 cents per diem a heavy enough burden.

The "general order" enjoins the officers in command of the companies which are sent to the front, to hold their men in readiness at a moment's notice to prevent predatory raids.

The Ottawa Battery left that city on Friday. The Port Hope Company is to leave on Wednesday evening for Windsor.

HAMILTON, Monday, Nov. 20.

It is understood now that no further disposition of the troops will be made, so as to increase the force here. The left wing of the Sixteenth Regiment, at present in London, will be distributed among the towns where accommodation can be had for them. Something was said some time since of a battery of artillery coming, and the rumor about the fitting up of the Palace probably had its origin in that.

The company of volunteers from the Thirteenth Battalion, ordered to the front, left the depot here this morning at 9 o'clock, en route to Windsor. About two hundred persons assembled to see them off, and there was a good deal of leave-taking, particularly among the fair sex, many of whom seemed to feel the loss they were to sustain in the departure of loved ones. More than one volunteer felt something swelling up in his heart, when saying "good bye," and I will not say but that tear-drops fell. Some of the company are exceedingly young, but they go forward with stout hearts, and will do their duty manfully.

TORONTO, Tuesday, Nov. 21.

Yesterday morning the company of the Queen's Own Rifles, for service on the frontier, mustered at the drill-shed at 6:30 o'clock, under command of Capt. JARVIS. A large number of the friends and acquaintances of the men attended, including a goodly number of the fair sex. Headed by the band of the battalion of the company—a body of men who, to all appearances, if called on would give a good account of themselves—marched to the Union Station, to proceed by the Grand Trunk Railway to Sarnia. The band struck up "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot," and the "Girl I Left Behind Me." The men were heartily cheered by the large assemblage as the cars moved off. "Guid luck" to the gallant fellows.

THE STEAMER D. H. MOUNT.

Latest Intelligence from the Missing Steamer—She was last Seen Two Hundred Miles Below Hatteras in the Height of the Gale—She did not Appear to be Disabled.

Mr. J. W. BOWERS, of Brooklyn, who had a daughter (Mrs. ALICE A. BRUSH) on board the missing steamer D. H. Mount, received a letter from Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday, the 22d inst., which states that the Captain of a schooner passed the Mount below Hatteras about two hundred miles, on the morning of the 24th of October, in the height of the gale.

At that time she did not appear to be disabled. The Captain thinks if the D. H. Mount could stand the gale a short time longer she may have been blown to the Bahamas, whence it would be difficult to hear from her.

Negroes Allowed to Testify for their Own Race—Colored Troops Capture a Railway Train—Correspondence About the Withdrawal of Troops—Work of the Methodist Conference.

JACKSON, Tuesday, Nov. 21.

The bill conferring certain civil rights upon freedmen passed the House to-day, with a substitute for the fourth section. Freedmen are allowed to testify and be witnesses when a party to the record, but not in cases exclusively between white men, by a vote of 56 to 30.

Gov. HUMPHREYS telegraphed on the 18th inst. to the President that the colored troops attacked and took possession of a passenger train at Louderdale Springs and insulted the ladies, the officers being unable to control them. He further says the Legislature have memorialized for the removal of the troops, and are willing to extend the right to freedmen to testify in court if the troops are withdrawn. The President replied that the troops would be withdrawn when peace and order could be maintained without them. Measures should be adopted giving protection to all freedmen in their possessions, which will entitle them to assume their constitutional rights. There was no disposition on the part of the government arbitrarily to dictate, but simply to devise a policy that is beneficial.

The Methodist Conference of Mississippi has just adjourned. It adopted resolutions providing for the education of freedmen and their wives and children.

FROM THE RIO GRANDE.

Bagdad Besieged—Demand for the Surrender of a Steamer—Why the Liberals Left Matamoras.

NEW-ORLEANS, Wednesday, Nov. 22.

There is a doubtful rumor that Bagdad is besieged by the Liberals.

It is also stated that the French Admiral demanded of Gen. WEITZEL, the surrender of the steamer captured by the Liberals, which was refused.

A rumor has reached here, that the reason of the sudden disappearance of the Liberals from before Matamoras, was because they were suddenly informed that the Imperialists were marching from Monteray to take them in the rear.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The balance of the crew was taken by the ship Ella, bound to Liverpool.

THE MANDRAKE PILLS
Are composed entirely of roots and herbs, obtained from the great storehouse of Nature, and their salutary effects will appear as soon as the medicine is brought to the test of a fair experiment.
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS do not produce any nausea or sickness of the stomach; but when given for Dyspepsia, it may be proper to use them in connection with SCHENCK'S SEA-WEED TONIC. By this judicious treatment, the digestive faculties are speedily restored to their full vigor, and the worst cases of indigestion may be cured.
When we reflect that the liver is the largest internal organ of the body; that to it is assigned the important duty of filtering the blood and preparing the bile; that it is subject to many disorders, and that when it is diseased, or inactive, the whole body suffers sympathetically, it is not surprising that a medicine which can restore the healthy operations of the liver should produce wonderful changes in the general health, and effect cures which may appear to be almost miraculous. Headache, of long continuance, severe pains in the side, breast and shoulders, aching of the limbs, a feeling of general weakness and wretchedness, and other alarming and distressing symptoms, indicative of imperfect or disordered action of the liver, are speedily removed by the use of SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.
Costiveness, piles, bitter or sour eructations, and that indescribable feeling of oppression, mental anxiety, languor, lethargy and depression of spirits, which unfit a man for the management of business and the enjoyment of life, are all relieved by the use of SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.
Dr. SCHENCK will be professionally at his principal office, No. 15 North 6th-st., corner of Commerce, every SATURDAY, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.; No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, every TUESDAY, from 9 to 3; No. 38 Summer-st., Boston, Mass., every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3; and every other FRIDAY at No. 108 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md. All advice free; but for a thorough examination of the lungs with his Respirometer the charge is $3.
Price of the PULMONIC SYRUP and SEAWEED TONIC, each $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 per half dozen. MANDRAKE PILLS, 25 cents per box.
For sale by all druggists and dealers.
N. B.—A full supply of Dr. SCHENCK'S medicines can be obtained at all times at his rooms, No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, and the Doctor may be seen there professionally every TUESDAY, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

And all the various diseases of the Editorial from New-York Citizen, Sept. 2, 1865.

Dr. LIGHTHILL, who has already placed himself before the judgment of the world and his professional peers in various essays on deafness, catarrh, the progress of aural surgery, and diseases of the respiratory system, is the inventor of a most ingenious mechanical appliance, called the Nephotherapon, for the introduction of remedial agents into the larynx, trachea, bronchial and eustachian tubes and lungs, without causing any disturbance to the nervous or muscular systems of the patient. The importance of this discovery cannot be overestimated, supplying, as it does, to medical science the means of applying topical and direct treatment to internal organs heretofore inaccessible. The system of inhalation, as ordinarily applied, though not without its advantages, failed to convey the various therapeutic agents in a sufficiently strong or active form to the parts affected, and no medicines could be thus employed which were not essentially of a volatile nature. By the Nephotherapon, however, any remedial agents judged necessary for the lungs or air-passages can be at once and painlessly—indeed, almost unconsciously to the patient—introduced in the form of a spray, so fine and delicate as to resemble the misty air we are in the habit of breathing at early dawn on the mountain sides, or in the valleys, of the Catskill or Adirondack ranges. So fine and impalpable is this medicated mist that it is only by holding the hand in it for some seconds that we can notice its dampness; and by this new system any medicine, and in any quantity deemed essential, can be internally applied to the lungs or air-passages without any of the convulsive chokings which follow when—to use a popular phrase—some crumb or drop of liquid "goes the wrong way." Of course the success of this system must depend on the accuracy of the diagnosis and the propriety and effectiveness of the remedial agents employed. But, as furnishing a mechanical means for the direct introduction of therapeutic agents into the lungs, the importance of the Nephotherapon will be acknowledged by all professional men who have had experience in this class of cases.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

TWO GREAT WAR BOOKS.
HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW-YORK,
Have just published:
I.
PRISON LIFE IN THE SOUTH;
At Richmond, Macon, Savannah, Charleston, Columbia Charlotte, Raleigh, Goldsboro and Andersonville,
DURING THE YEARS 1864 AND 1865.
BY A. O. ABBOTT,
late Lieutenant First New-York Dragoons.
Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, beveled edges, $2.

From the New-York Daily Times.
The book exhibits all the various phases of rebel treatment of their prisoners. Its revelations are almost too painful for general reading, and with the illustrations form a picture that must never be forgotten. Lieut. Abbott's book is indispensable to a comprehension of the spirit in which war was waged by our adversaries.

From the New-York Express.
One of the most vivid and thrilling histories of the late war yet written. A simple story is told, which is more powerful from its simplicity.

From the Philadelphia Press.
No other work has more tangibly impressed us with the reality of what our captured citizen soldiers suffered from rebel barbarity than this "Prison Life in the South."

From the Brooklyn Times.
Told in simple but effective language, the history of the sufferings at the Libby, at Macon, at Columbia and other places, is harrowing in the extreme, but on every page bears internal marks of authenticity.

From the New-York Commercial Advertiser.
This handsomely illustrated volume is a tale of terrible trial and suffering, of brutal persecution, and of the manifold attempts to break prison. These personal narratives fill out the bare skeletons of official detail, and verify the horrible stories that are in circulation in regard to rebel cruelty.

From the Union, Springfield, Mass.
A valuable contribution to the literature of the war. It is a stern arraignment of the rebel authorities and rebel prison-keepers.

II.
THE STORY OF THE GREAT MARCH:
Diary of Gen. Sherman's Campaign Through Georgia and the Carolinas.
By Brevet Major GEORGE WARD NICHOLS,
Aid-de-Camp to Gen. Sherman.
With a Colored Map and numerous Illustrations, and an Appendix, containing
GEN. SHERMAN'S OFFICIAL REPORT OF HIS CAMPAIGN, and Quartermaster and Commissary Reports, &c.
Twenty-second Edition. 12mo, Cloth, Beveled Edges, $2.

From Maj.-Gen. Sherman, U. S. A.
I have read the volume, "Story of the Great March," by Maj. George Ward Nichols, and was interested in it, as it is the faithful record of one who made the march, and had abundant opportunities to observe for himself.
W. T. SHERMAN, Major-General.

From Maj.-Gen. Hazen.
For freshness and piquancy of style, for accuracy of statement, and for clear delineation of the characteristics of the country and people, there has been no book published upon the war equal to Maj. Nichols' "Story of the Great March." W. B. HAZEN, Major-General.

DR. R. SHELTON MACKENZIE, in the Philadelphia Press of Nov. 21, 1865, makes the following comparison between Major Nichols' "Story of the Great March" and another account of the march recently published WITHOUT MAPS OR ILLUSTRATIONS:
"The description of Sherman's march to the sea, as given here (in Capt. Conyngham's book) is by no means as good as that by Major Nichols. Of course an experienced officer knew more and wrote better of that great military exploit than such a mere amateur as a newspaper reporter acting as volunteer Aide-de-Camp."
Published by HARPER & BROTHERS, New-York.
☞ Either of the above works sent by mail, postage prepaid, to any part of the United States, on receipt of two dollars.

CIRCULAR.—OFFICE OF KENDRICK & THOMAS, COMMISSION BROKERS.—Miscellaneous stocks and bonds, State, county, city and railroad securities not quoted at the New-York Stock Exchange. Also bonds of the Southern States, their municipalities and corporations. No. 42 Exchange-place. (Late the office of Geo. W. Hodges, Esq.)

NEW-YORK, Nov. 15, 1865.

We give our exclusive attention to buying and selling stocks and bonds not sold or quoted at the regular stock board, and make that business a specialty. Having had several years' experience in that line of business, with an extensive acquaintance and correspondence throughout the United States, we are prepared to execute orders for the purchase and sale of every description of security in the shape of bonds and stocks of the several States, their municipalities and corporations—having an intimate knowledge of their values and markets. We keep a record of every change effecting prices, and are thoroughly posted on all points. It would be advantageous to parties desiring to sell, and we recommend them to register their securities at our office, so that investors calling daily may select and purchase, thereby meeting an easy, ready ad prompt sale. We have a number of institutions with whom we negotiate large lots of State, city and county bonds, and are receiving orders from them from time to time to make purchases. At the present we are dealing extensively in Southern securities, comprising State, city and railway stocks and bonds. Parties wishing to register can do so by letter or otherwise, without expense, and no commissions charged unless sales are effected. A complete description and limit in price is important. We have established our business upon a systematic basis, and our house is the only one in the line of business embracing the whole field and mass of outside securities. Quotations freely given, and prompt attention to all matters of business.

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP "HENRY CHAUNCEY,"
ASPINWALL, Nov. 9, 1865.

To Capt. Alfred G. Gray, Commander of the Steamship Henry Chauncey:

SIR: The undersigned, passengers on board the Pacific Mail Company's steam vessel, Henry Chauncey, on this, her first voyage between New-York and Aspinwall, are unwilling to leave the ship without expressing in some way, to yourself, their appreciation of and satisfaction at the very great improvements and arrangements for the comfort of passengers, now secured by the company, to those who travel by this route, as well as their sense of your own skill, good management, tact, and those excellent personal qualities which have rendered those improvements still more acceptable.

Many of us have had occasion more than once, and some frequently, to pass between New-York and Aspinwall; and the remembrance of the discomforts, the inconveniencies, and often the impositions and miseries, which under a former condition of things, made this voyage on the Atlantic side, a thing to be dreaded, and which alone enabled a transit by another route to maintain itself, has caused us to appreciate still more the advantages and benefits of the new arrangements.

To yourself personally are due our acknowledgments for the regularity and order, the dispatch and the certainty with which this voyage has been accomplished, on a new ship, with new hands, and under the disadvantages which are inevitable on a first trip.

We very cordially wish you and the officers under you all success in the very fine steamship which the company have placed under your orders, and we are,

Citizens' Association Nominees for Mayor and Corporation Counsel.

THEIR LETTERS OF ACCEPTANCE.

THE CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION OF NEW-YORK,
No. 813 Broadway, Nov. 13, 1865.

John Hecker, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: The Citizens' Association, impressed with the importance of intrusting the Mayoralty of this great metropolis to an able, upright, public-spirited man, and recognizing in your past life the qualities desired, have nominated you for Mayor, and pledge you their cordial support at the approaching Charter election.

The degrading and ruinous sway of political factions, and of unscrupulous men, under which the city has suffered vast evils for years, enforces the necessity of organized and earnest efforts to elevate to municipal offices those who are qualified to represent, protect and develop the great commercial, industrial, financial and social interests of the city, and who will apply to public duties and trusts the same moral and economical principles which win success and honor in private enterprise.

Your well-known life and character assure us of the fitness of our nomination. You need only devote to the Mayoralty the abilities which have been rewarded with success in private life, to insure to this city a future of elevated progress and improvement, and to yourself the plaudits of a grateful people.

Respectfully yours, JAMES BROWN,
President of the Citizens' Association.
ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT, Secretary.

Committee on nominations appointed at a meeting of the Citizens' Association, held at No. 813 Broadway, Oct. 10, 1865.—Alexander T. Stewart, William H. Webb, Robert B. Roosevelt, Dorman B. Eaton, Henry Hilton, David Dows, Jackson S. Schultz, Washington R. Vermilye, Nathaniel Sands, Geo. F. Noyes, George Bliss, Jr., C. R. Roberts, Cyrus Lawton, Charles Tracy.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 15, 1865.

Messrs. James Brown, Alexander T. Stewart, William H. Webb, Robert B. Roosevelt, Dorman B. Eaton, Henry Hilton, David Dows, Jackson S. Schultz, Washington R. Vermilye, Nathaniel Sands, George F. Noyes, George Bliss, Jr., C. R. Roberts, Cyrus Lawton and Charles Tracy:

GENTLEMEN: Your letter of the 13th inst., informing me that the Citizens' Association have been pleased to name me as their candidate for Mayor, at the coming Charter election, is received.

I am sincerely gratified that so numerous and influential a body of my fellow-citizens as the Citizens' Association, including gentlemen whose sound judgment and moral worth are so highly esteemed by the public, together with some thousands of others who have signed their names, ratifying my nomination, have thought me qualified for the duties of so important an office; and that they have seen in my past life indications of that conscientiousness which should animate every public officer.

I accept the nomination, with thanks to you for the honor conferred; and should my fellow-citizens see fit to ratify it by their votes, no pains nor effort upon my part shall be spared, so far as the legitimate powers of the Mayoralty extend, to secure a vigorous, honest and economical city government.

In giving this pledge, I depend not upon any ability or strength of purpose of my own, but upon the aid which my fellow-citizens, who desire a good government, will give me, and still more upon the assistance of Almighty God, to whom I have learned to look for guidance and support in every undertaking.

I am, very respectfully, yours,
JOHN HECKER.

In reply to a letter similar to that sent to Mr. HECKER by the Nominating Committee of the Citizens' Association, Mr. RICHARD O'GORMAN, the Association's nominee for the office of Corporation Counsel, replied as follows:

MR. O'GORMAN'S ACCEPTANCE.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 6, 1865.

GENTLEMEN: I have received your letter informing me that the Citizens' Association of New-York have nominated me as their candidate for the office of Corporation Counsel at the coming Charter election.

I am very sensible of the honor thus conferred upon me, for I am well assured that your choice would not have fallen upon me if you were not satisfied that my election to this responsible office would subserve the best interests of our noble city, and that I would be as earnest as yourselves to defend its rights, assert its honor and protect its finances from adverse influences, from whatever quarter or in whatever shape they may assail it.

The office of Corporation Counsel is a purely civic office, having no necessary concern with political parties or with the great political issues which agitate society. It is an office of honor, indeed, but, at the same time, of labor, care and responsibility. The lawyer who has the City of New-York for his client, and endeavors honestly and efficiently to discharge his duties to that client, will have his hands full and no easy task.

With these views of the importance of the office before you, you have tendered me your nomination and pledged me your cordial support; and with these views before me I gratefully and proudly accept your nomination and your promise; and in return, I pledge myself to you, if elected to this office, to devote all the strength and energies I possess, and to use all the powers the office may afford, to aid you in your desire to insure for the city and its citizens, of whatever party, a future of progress and improvement.

I am, very truly and respectfully, yours,
RICHARD O'GORMAN.

To Messrs. James Brown, Alex. T. Stewart, William H. Webb, Robert B. Roosevelt, Dorman B. Eaton, Henry Hilton, David Dows, Jackson S. Schultz, Washington R. Vermilye, Nathaniel Sands, George F. Noyes, George Bliss, Jr., C. R. Roberts, Cyrus Lawton, and Charles Tracy.

Mr. O'Gorman's Acceptance of the Mozart Nomination.

The committee appointed by the Mozart City Convention to tender the nomination of Corporation Counsel to RICHARD O'GORMAN, Esq., met that gentleman at 1 o'clock P. M. yesterday. After being severally introduced, GEORGE SHEA, Esq., Chairman of the committee, addressed Mr. O'GORMAN as follows:

ADDRESS OF MR. SHEA.

MR. O'GORMAN: You are, of course, acquainted with the object of our meeting here. The Mozart Convention met last evening, and did, by acclamation, that which, I may say, had long been its purpose, by putting you in nomination as its candidate for the office of Corporation Counsel of this city, and thus placing themselves, in conjunction with other powerful political organizations, to effect that purpose in which so many citizens of all parties seem, at present to concur. While, Sir, that same fitness, personal and professional, that has suggested your name to those other political organizations, was not without its effect, perhaps controlling effect with the Mozart Convention, yet they were very much pleased that one who seems to be so universal a favorite, is also in unison with them now, as in the past, in all those grand political problems which it is the duty of every good citizen to aid the present National Administration to bring to the happy issues of unity, peace and concord.

As Chairman of this committee, I tender to you, on behalf of the Mozart Convention, that nomination, and I need scarcely add that it is to me personally a matter of great pleasure to be the medium of this communication.

REPLY OF MR. O'GORMAN.

MR. SHEA AND GENTLEMEN: I beg that you will accept my grateful acknowledgments for the nomination that you have tendered me, and also for the very graceful terms in which that tender has been conveyed to me. It is peculiarly satisfactory to me to know that I have been nominated for this onerous and responsible office, not only by many of those to whom my political opinions had not seemed objectionable, but have been led to select me from the conviction that I was a man desirous to fulfill the duties of this responsible office, and to act as counsel for the City of New-York, if I were elected to that position, with fidelity, honor, industry and efficiency.

I am well aware that offices of public trust convey with them the highest honor that society can confer, but to me they also convey the sense of heavy and grave responsibilities. In accepting your nomination, and in entering upon the office, if it be my lot to receive the votes of the citizens of New-York, I shall remember that it is my duty, and it shall be my effort, to spare no labor, no industry and no pains that may be necessary to fulfill its requirements, so that when I retire from the office, every man, rich or poor, no matter what his party predilections may be, will be able to say: "That man that you gentlemen and others have honored by your nomination has, at all events, striven to do his duty."

I accept your nomination; I thank you for it; and I beg that you will convey my acknowledgments to the convention which you represent.

Our City Military.

Gen. Fremont at the Capital of Missouri—A Short Speech.

The people of Jefferson City gave Major.-Gen. FREMONT a rousing reception on the evening of the 17th. Gov. FLETCHER made a speech of welcome, alluding to the General's war services and his present duties, (as President of the Pacific Railroad,) to which Gen. FREMONT replied:

GENTLEMEN: I thank you for the honor of your calling on me this evening, and am happy that there is such a pleasant change in the condition of affairs since I was here last. When I was here four years ago the General Government was represented here, and to-day I have had the pleasure to meet the representatives of the State of Missouri engaged in their old labor of endeavoring to advance the prosperity of your State. I congratulate you, gentlemen, on the return of peace, and the prospect that Missouri will now attain with rapid strides to that prosperity to which, in virtue of her natural wealth and commanding position, she is entitled. And I think that I may on this occasion express the admiration which I, in common with your Eastern friends, have felt for the conduct of Missouri during the last four years. It is not too much to say that our present happy and stable condition of affairs is mainly due to the attitude which Missouri assumed at the beginning of the war, and the sterling and extraordinary courage which she displayed in conducting it to a successful close. [Cheers.] I have but little to say to you to-night more than to thank you for the honor you do me by calling upon me. It is now more than a quarter of a century ago that I came to this country and endeavored to do my part in promoting your communications with the West. I then enjoyed for the first time that liberal hospitality for which your State, and especially the city of St. Louis may well be proud. On very many occasions I have had the honor to thank your people on occasions like to-night. I come now back among you with these same objects in view, and I hope to open for you some of these communications. It seems as if there was to be a great race over the course to reach the Pacific ocean, and I should like to be in that race and ride one of the horses. [Cheers.] I should be glad to see which horse will first reach the Pacific, and I believe the one by the way of Santiago and Guaymas will make good time. [Cheers.] Gentlemen, I have nothing more to say to you than to thank you for the pleasure you have given me in calling upon me. [Cheers.]

The Sanitary Condition of Jersey City.

At the meeting of the Common Council of Jersey City on Tuesday night, a communication was received from Dr. WALTER J. HADDEN in relation to the sanitary condition of the city, and was referred to a special committee of one member of the board from each ward, in connection with the Committee on Public Health. The following is the communication:

To the Mayor and Common Council of Jersey City:

GENTLEMEN: Allow me to communicate to you a few remarks in relation to the sanitary condition of the city, also of the condition we are in if cholera visits us.

The warning already given of that disease approaching, ought to call forth your serious attention to avert, in every possible manner, what might be likely to encourage that fearful disease, if it should visit us.

There is great need of a sanitary reform in this city, and a rigid enforcement of a few hygienic laws is necessary. The atmosphere in which we live and breathe is poisoned by effluvia, arising from the decomposition of animal and vegetable matter and other debris, lying in and around the streets, yards, low houses, pigpens, stables, factories, and tenement-houses; also from the stagnant water in cellars and empty lots, from defective drainage.

The tenement-houses in which our poor working classes reside are badly ventilated—and very many of them are filthy in the extreme—and the stench arising, also, from the garbage used in filling in the shore front is at times intolerable.

There is another great evil that is to be dreaded other than vitiated atmosphere, which not only exists in this city, but in every city, (that of adulterated food, diseased meats, fish and stale vegetables,) and the poor are more generally the purchasers. They are compelled, owing to the high prices of food at the present time, to live on the very cheapest, and consequently every artifice is resorted to to adulterate that food which God, in His goodness, intended should be pure, to sustain life.

Now this dreaded pestilence of cholera hangs over us, and we know where it will strike first; first among our poor, on account of ill ventilation of the places in which they reside, where the walls reek with organic accumulations, the air poisoned from the exhalations of so many human beings herded together, whose systems are weakened by the inhalations of foul air, eating of bad food, and the vices and diseases they have engendered. It will carry off the enfeebled, the dissolute and miserable. Yet it will visit the houses of the rich as well. It will strike inscrutable blows among the healthy, as well as the diseased, and once established, will create sad havoc among all classes.

There is another class of citizens who are blessed with means to provide against contingencies that do arise, and who pay proper attention to the hygenic laws, such as cleanliness, ventilation and food, and why should they be subjected to the obnoxious influences of vitiated air, caused by those who neglect to pay proper attention to a few of the laws necessary for the protection of the human health.

Therefore, let there be measures taken at once to compel owners of tenement-houses to insist upon cleanliness among their tenants, both in their houses and yards, and let the contractor who cleans our streets pay more attention to the by-streets, where our poor reside, as well as the main thoroughfares; let there be proper drainage throughout the city to carry off the stagnant water that exists in cellars and empty lots at the present time; also let there be a sanitary inspector appointed whose duty will be not only to investigate as regards the condition of houses, yards, streets, &c., but let him be invested with power to inspect all kinds of food, and reject all kinds that are offered for sale that are unfit for human beings to eat or live upon.

And if proper care and precaution are used to keep the air pure, and means used whereby the poor can have good unadulterated food, &c., then, if cholera should visit this city, there will not be that mortality as would otherwise be, if this city is allowed to remain in its present filthy state.

Respectfully, &c.,
WALTER J. HADDEN, M. D.

Coroner's Inquests.

SUICIDE IN A LUNATIC ASYLUM.

An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner COLLIN, at the Lunatic Asylum, Blackwell's Island, on the body of ROBERT HENSCHER, a lunatic, who took away his own life, by hanging himself from the grating above the door of his cell, by his pocket-handkerchief. Life was quite extinct when the suspended body was discovered. The deceased had been a clerk, but losing his situation, and becoming consequently embarrassed, his unhappy position so preyed upon his mind as to produce the temporary insanity terminating so fatally. He was taken into the asylum on the 12th inst. Mr. HENSCHER was a native of Scotland, and 57 years of age.

ALLEGED DEATH BY POISONING.

On Tuesday night, at a late hour, PATRICK CARR, residing at No. 296 Seventh-avenue, came to the Twentieth Precinct Station-house and stated that one of his boarders, named JOHN TOY, had died suddenly, and that the attending physician had refused to give a burial certificate, as he was not satisfied as to the cause of death. The police report that it was afterward ascertained that the deceased came to his death by morphine, which he had taken for the purpose of self-destruction. The Coroner was notified to hold an inquest.

Billiards.

THE GAME IN BROOKLYN.

Last evening, SPAULDING'S Billiard Hall, in Court-street, South Brooklyn, was crowded by a highly respectable assemblage of the admirers of the game, who were collected together to witness a trial of skill between Messrs. KAVANAGH and HUMPHREY, in a match of 500 points up, at caroms. KAVANAGH, together with Capt. BOYLE, Mr. EATON, the champion of California, and Mr. HUMPHREY, the noted amateur player, arrived at the hall at 8 P. M., and after the seats were arranged, &c., they began play. HUMPHREY had rather the best of the game at the beginning, he opening with a fine run of 54, and following it up with a beauty of 164, the best of the match. KAVANAGH, however, by some fine play, including pretty runs of 89, 56 and 107, finally came in the victor by a score of 500 to 392, his average being 21. HUMPHREY'S was 17. Afterwards Messrs. HUMPHREY and EATON played. The following is the score of the principal match:

KAVANAGH—13, 30, 0, 14, 89, 56, 5, 0, 15, 9, 14, 40, 2, 0, 9, 107, 18, 5, 10, 0, 2, 30, 20—total, 500.

HUMPHREY—0, 54, 0, 23, 2, 2, 164, 31, 42, 2, 3, 15, 4, 7, 12, 2, 0, 2, 0, 0, 13, 10—total, 392.

Time of game, one hour.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THE PRICE OF COAL FALLING.—The combination among dealers to keep up the price of coal appears to have been broken. At the sale of Scranton coal yesterday, grate coal fell from $10 87 to $8 87 per ton, while other descriptions suffered a decline in price from $1 to $1 50. It was observed that buyers were particularly shy at the sale, and that only small parcels were bought. An impression now prevails that a further decline will take place at the next public sale.

FIRE IN PEARL-STREET.—About 11 o'clock last night a fire was discovered in the rear of Nos. 12 and 14 Pearl-street, in stables occupied by PHILLYS DEGRAW and DENNIS HAYS. The fire originated in a hay loft, how not known. It was speedily extinguished, and the loss does not exceed $500; no insurance.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE KINGS COUNTY CANVASSERS.—The County Canvassers met at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and continued in session until about 3 o'clock, during which time they canvassed the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, and Seventeenth Wards, leaving two city wards and five country towns still to dispose of. The probabilities are that the entire canvass will be completed this week. The board adjourned until this afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. The City Canvassers will meet this evening, when the vote on the city ticket will probably be declared.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED THIEF.—Officer DONNOLLY, of the Forty-third Precinct Police, arrested CHARLES CLARKE in Albany on Tuesday, on the charge of having stolen from the house of WILLIAM CREMER, No. 76 Atlantic-street, some time last week, articles amounting to $200 in value. The property was all recovered. The accused was brought to this city and locked up to await examination.

THEFT BY A SERVANT GIRL.—A servant in the employ of Mrs. CYNTHIA ANSTO, No. 288 Sackett-street, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing articles of clothing and trinkets valued at $50. The property was recovered, and accused was committed to answer.

DAMAGE BY THE LATE STORM.—A new three-story frame building, not yet inclosed, on the corner of Myrtle-avenue and Spencer-street, was blown down during the severe storm on Tuesday. The frame was impelled across the street. The damage amounts to about $500.

BURGLARY.—The residence of JAMES H. PRENTICE, No. 27 Lafayette-avenue, was feloneously entered on Tuesday night. The burglers had secured a lot of valuable jewelry, when they were alarmed by the nurse who was attending to the wants of a sick child, and took their departure without taking anything with them.

INSTALLATION OF A PASTOR.—Rev. JOSEPH KIMBALL, formerly of Fishkill, N. Y., was installed as pastor of the First Reformed Dutch Protestant Church, in Jerolemon-street, on Tuesday evening. The former pastor, Rev. Dr. WILLETS, has taken charge of the Lee-avenue Reformed Dutch Church.

KING'S COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT—Nov. 23.—Nos. 72, 73, 75, 76, 79, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 88, 90, 91, 93, 94, 95, 98, 57, 66½.

Williamsburgh.

THE GREENPOINT SHOOTING AFFRAY.—WILLIAM McCULLEN, the master of the canal-boat Elizabeth Sarah, of Philadelphia, who shot one of his men (HENRY HILE) on board the boat on Tuesday evening, was taken before Justice DAILEY for examination yesterday. The testimony of three witnesses was taken, from which it appeared that HILE, who was quite drunk at the time, assailed McCULLEN repeatedly with his fists and a bludgeon, and that the shooting took place under the most aggravated circumstances. A further examination will take place this morning. The injured man is improving.

FIRE.—About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in the residence of JAMES WHITAKER, No. 292 Graham-avenue, E. D., caused by the boiling over of a pot of paint. The flames were extinguished with a loss of one hundred dollars, principally by water.

SUSPICION OF ARSON.—MICHAEL HOMAN, the man arrested on Tuesday evening by the police of the Forty-sixth Precinct, on suspicion of firing SCHNADERBECK'S stable, in Wykoff-street, the same morning, was yesterday committed to jail by Justice WALTER to await examination.
